Tsai Ming-liang Jean-Pierre Rehm, Olivier Joyard, Danièle Rivière, 1999 Acclaimed Taiwan based filmmaker Tsai Ming liang is renowned for creating some of the most nihilistic and erotic films of the 1990s His films often use water in its multiple capacities cleansing raining nourishing flooding to symbolize his character s emotions Depicting the human body as a mysterious malleable machine consuming and excreting on its own volition he turns bodily functions into metaphors for loneliness desire decay and escape His obsessive and isolated characters give his films a bleak outlook but they also embody a wry sense of absurdist humor Taiwanese filmmaker Tsai Ming liang born 1957 has directed a dozen full length films including Rebels of Neon God Vive l Amour Golden Lion at the Venice Film Festival 1994 The River Silver Bear at the Berlin Film Festival 1997 The Hole The Wayward Cloud Face and Stray Dogs Silver Lion at the Venice Film Festival 2013 In 2013 Tsai was voted by UK newspaper The Guardian as number 18 of the 40 best directors in the world

The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2013-03-13 What does it mean for a cinematic work to be Chinese Does it refer specifically to a work s subject or does it also reflect considerations of language ethnicity nationality ideology or political orientation Such questions make any single approach to a vast field like Chinese cinema difficult at best Accordingly The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas situates the term more broadly among various different phases genres and distinct national configurations while taking care to address the consequences of grouping together so many disparate histories under a single banner Offering both a platform for cross disciplinary dialogue and a mapping of Chinese cinema as an expanded field this Handbook presents thirty three essays by leading researchers and scholars intent on yielding new insights and new analyses using three different methodologies Chapters in Part I investigate the historical periodizations of the field through changing notions of national and political identity all the way from the industry's beginnings in the 1920s up to its current forms in contemporary Hong Kong Taiwan and the global diaspora Chapters in Part II feature studies centered on the field's taxonomical formalities including such topics as the role of the Chinese opera in technological innovation the political logic of the Maoist film and the psychoanalytic formula of the kung fu action film Finally in Part III focus is given to the structural elements that comprise a work's production distribution and reception to reveal the broader cinematic apparatuses within which these works are positioned Taken together the multipronged approach supports a wider platform beyond the geopolitical and linguistic limitations in existing scholarship Expertly edited to illustrate a representative set of up to date topics and approaches The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas provides a vital addition to a burgeoning field still in its formative stages

Citing China Gina Marchetti, 2018-03-31 Citing China explores the role film plays in creating a common ground for the exchange of political and aesthetic ideas between China and the rest of the world It does so by examining the depiction of China in contemporary film looking at how global filmmakers cite China on screen Author Gina Marchetti's aim is not to point to how China continues to function as a metaphor or allusion that has little to do with the geopolitical actualities of contemporary China Rather she highlights China's position within global film culture examining how cinematic quotations link current films to past political movements and unresolved social issues in a continuing multidirectional conversation Marchetti covers a wide range of cinematic encounters across the China West divide She looks closely at specific movements in world film history and at key films that have influenced the way China is depicted in global cinema today from popular entertainment to international art cinema the DV revolution video activism and the emergence of festival films Marchetti first considers contemporary Chinese language cinema Edward Yang Hou Hsiao Hsien she then turns to Italian Neorealism and its importance to the Chinese Sixth Generation Jia Zhangke and the French New Wave s ripple effect on filmmakers associated with the Hong Kong New Wave and Taiwan New Cinema Ann Hui Evans Chan As the People s Republic of China has gained increased global economic clout filmmakers draw on Euro American formulae Bruce Lee Clara Law to attract new viewers and define cinematic pleasures for new audiences on the other side of the earth The book concludes with a consideration of the role film festivals women filmmakers and emerging audiences play in the new world of global cinema Citing China offers a framework for examining cinematic influence as a dynamic and multidirectional process It is carefully researched theoretically sophisticated and animated by detailed and historically nuanced studies of individual films making clear just how much a part of global film culture today s China is The book makes important contributions to debates in transnational film studies postmodern versus modernist aesthetics and politics and Asian as well as European art cinema
