Sounding New Media Frances Dyson,2009-09-04 Examines the long neglected role of sound and audio in the development of a new media theory and practice including new technologies and performance art events with particular emphasis on embodiment art and technological interactions focusing on technologies that became available in the mid twentieth century electronics imaging and digital and computer processing Singing the Body Electric: The Human Voice and Sound Technology Miriama Young,2016-03-03 Singing the Body Electric explores the relationship between the human voice and technology offering startling insights into the ways in which technological mediation affects our understanding of the voice and more generally the human body From the phonograph to magnetic tape and now to digital sampling Miriama Young visits particular musical and literary works that define a century and a half of recorded sound She discusses the way in which the human voice is captured transformed or synthesised through technology This includes the sampled voice the mechanical voice the technologically modified voice the pliable voice of the digital era and the phenomenon by which humans mimic the sounding traits of the machine The book draws from key electro vocal works spanning a range of genres from Luciano Berio s Thema Omaggio a Joyce to Radiohead from Alvin Lucier s I Am Sitting in a Room to Bjrk and from Pierre Henry s Variations on a Door and a Sigh to Christian Marclay s Maria Callas In essence this book transcends time and musical style to reflect on the way in which the machine transforms our experience of the voice The chapters are interpolated by conversations with five composers who work creatively with the voice and technology Trevor Wishart Katharine Norman Paul Lansky Eduardo Miranda and Bora Yoon This book is an interdisciplinary enterprise that combines music aesthetics and musical analysis with literature and philosophy Sounds of Modern History Daniel Morat,2014-09-01 Long ignored by scholars in the humanities sound has just begun to take its place as an important object of study in the last few years Since the late 19th century there has been a paradigmatic shift in auditory cultures and practices in European societies This change was brought about by modern phenomena such as urbanization industrialization and mechanization the rise of modern sciences and of course the emergence of new sound recording and transmission media This book contributes to our understanding of modern European history through the lens of sound by examining diverse subjects such as performed and recorded music auditory technologies like the telephone and stethoscope and the ambient noise of the city The Transcultural Turn Lucy Bond,Jessica Rapson,2014-04-01 This edited collection makes a progressive intervention into the interdisciplinary field of memory studies with a series of essays drawn from diverse theoretical practical and cultural backgrounds The most seminal critical development within memory studies in recent years has arguably been the turn towards transculturalism This movement engenders a series of methodologies that posit remembrance as a fluid process in which commemorative tropes work to inform the representation of diverse events and traumas beyond national or cultural boundaries transcending but not negating spatial temporal and ideational differences Examining a wide range of historical and cultural contexts the essays in this collection focus on the dialogues that shape processes of remembrance between and beyond borders critiquing the problems and possibilities inherent in current discourses in memorial practice and theory as they approach the challenge of transculturalism Metronome ,1958 Electronics ,1930 June issues 1941 44 and Nov issue 1945 include a buyers guide section Sound Motion Pictures Harold Brooks Franklin,1929 Radio Broadcast ,1925 The Absolute Sound ,2006 Professional papers of the Corps of royal engineers.
