Town and Hinterland in Central Java Wouter de Jong, Frank van Steenberg, 1987 In Search of Middle Indonesia, 2014-01-16 The middle classes of Indonesia's provincial towns are not particularly rich yet nationally influential This book examines them ethnographically Rather than a market friendly liberal middle class it finds a conservative petty bourgeoisie just out of poverty and skilled at politics Please note that Sylvia Tides article pp 89 110 will only be available in the print edition of this book 9789004263000 Town and Hinterland in Developing Countries Milan Titus, Jan Hinderink, 1998 This book deals with a series of case studies and comparative analyses on the structure and role of small and intermediate urban centres in different regional settings in developing countries The uniqueness of this study is that it makes comparisons between such diverse and wide flung areas as Central Mali and Swaziland in Sub Saharan Africa Northern Costa Rica and Northern Mexico in Latin America and Central Java and Yogyakarta in Indonesia The Department of Human Geography of Developing Countries of Utrecht University in the Netherlands has done more than a decade of systematic research into this topic The purpose of this book is to shed more light on the role of small towns in regional development under various socio spatial and political economical conditions and thereby contribute to the elucidation of often contradictory findings in literature Important focal points are the production and employment structures of the towns the development level of their rural hinterland economies the rural urban and interurban patterns of interaction and the role of government policy The Indonesian Town Revisited P. Nas, 2002 This book reflects the growing interest in new towns and the urban sprawl around Jakarta the economic crisis and its effects on the construction sector Furthermore a new direction in research is related to the growing interest in middle range cities Some well established topics are also covered such as kampung improvement urban conservation and migration BACK COVER Excerpta Indonesica, 2001 Indonesia Gerald H.
