

DESIGNING FOR ALL AGES & ABILITIES

Every design must meet the needs of a diverse range of potential bike riders. Across North America, however, many existing bike facility design practices are limited to only the oldest people being and exclude many who might otherwise use them.

IN AN AGE OF GROWING POPULATION that has become increasingly diverse and aging, it's essential to design bike facilities that are accessible to all. This means considering the needs of people of all ages and abilities, including children, young adults, older adults, and people with disabilities. Designing for all ages and abilities means creating a safe and equitable transportation system for everyone.

Urban Bikeway Design Guide

National Association of City Transportation Officials

Third Edition

The third edition of the Urban Bikeway Design Guide provides updated guidance on how to design bike facilities that are safe, accessible, and equitable for all users.

OUR VISION

Cities where safe, sustainable, and equitable transportation systems connect communities to the resources they need to thrive
