Small Powers In Alignment:

Small Powers in Alignment Omer de Raeymaeker, 1974 Asia-Pacific Secondary States as Kingmakers Richard J. Cook, Maximilian Ohle, Zhaoying Han, 2025-05-30 Focusing on the Asia Pacific region Cook Ohle and Han investigate the escalating strategic competition between China and the US They explore the dynamics of key regional secondary states caught in the middle namely Japan South Korea the Philippines and Vietnam emphasising their crucial role as potential kingmakers in the shifting balance of power China and the US are competing to win influence over these regional linchpins to advance their geopolitical ambitions and ultimately win the strategic competition Elucidating a power of the weak paradox this contribution examines the challenging choices faced by these secondary states as they navigate alignment pressures which influence the trajectory of the great power strategic competition Drawing upon a range of first hand government sources and regional perspectives the authors take the temperature of the China US strategic competition revealing the intricate influencing dynamics and perilous choices linchpins are being pushed to make that will determine the fate of the Asia Pacific This is a timely resource for researchers students scholars and politicians navigating the complex realm of international relations by providing a profound exploration of power struggles strategic choices and the often overlooked role of secondary states

Chinese Security Policy Robert Ross, 2009-05-20 This volume provides a coherent and comprehensive understanding of Chinese security policy comprising essays written by one of America's leading scholars Chinese Security Policy covers such fundamental areas as the role of international structure in state behavior the use of force in international politics including deterrence coercive diplomacy and war and the sources of great power conflict and cooperation and balance of power politics with a recent focus on international power transitions The research integrates the realist literature with key issues in Chinese foreign policy thereby placing China's behaviour in the larger context of the international political system Within this framework Chinese Security Policy considers the importance of domestic politics and leadership in Chinese policy making This book examines how Chinese strategic vulnerability since U S China rapprochement in the early 1970s has compelled Beijing to seek cooperation with the United States and to avoid U S China conflict over Taiwan It also addresses the implications of the rise of China for the security of both United States and of Chinese neighbors in East Asia and considers the implications of China's rise for the regional balance of power and the emerging twenty first century East Asian security order This book will be of great interest to all students of Chinese Security and Foreign Policy Chinese and Asian Politics US foreign policy and International Security in general

Myanmar's Post-Coup Foreign Policy Andrea Passeri, 2026-02-06 Passeri unpacks the highly polarized and dysfunctional reaction of the international community vis a vis Myanmar's 2021 military coup as well as the strategy utilized by the ruling junta to counter the diplomatic fallout of the power grab and ensuing civil war This book shows that Myanmar's military installed regime is neither irrational in its foreign policy choices nor marginalized on the global stage due to Western sanctions and isolation

Quite on the contrary the troubled and conflict prone Southeast Asian country currently enjoys a growing geopolitical centrality in the region and beyond rooted in its position as a gateway to the increasingly contested Indo Pacific which allowed the junta to establish intimate ties with key countries such as China Russia India and Japan It challenges a series of cliches and prejudices that characterize the ongoing debate on the international dimension of the Myanmar crisis A vital read for academics and scholars interested in Myanmar s relations with the outside world international relations and political science

China's Rise and the Balance of Influence in Asia William W. Keller, Thomas G. Rawski, 2007-05-31 China s protracted boom and political transformation is a major episode in the history of global political economy Beginning in the late 1970s China experienced a quarter century of extraordinary growth that raised every indicator of material welfare lifted several hundred million out of poverty and rocketed China from near autarky to regional and even global prominence These striking developments transformed China into a major U S trade and investment partner a regional military power and a major influence on national economies and cross national interchange throughout the Pacific region Beijing has emerged as a voice for East Asian economic interests and an arbiter in regional and even global diplomacy from the Asian financial crisis to the North Korean nuclear talks China s accession to the World Trade Organization promises to accentuate these trends The contributors to this volume provide a multifaceted examination of China in the areas of economics trade investment politics diplomacy technology and security affording a greater understanding of what relevant policies the United States must develop This book offers a counterweight to overwrought concerns about the emerging Chinese threat and makes the case for viewing China as a force for stability in the twenty first century

The Functions of Small States in the Strategies of the Great Powers Trygve Mathisen, 1971

Write Great Code, Vol. 2 Randall Hyde, 2004 Provides information on how computer systems operate how compilers work and writing source code

Handbook of Indo-Pacific Studies Barbara Kratiuk, Jeroen Van den Bosch, Aleksandra Jaskólska, Yoichiro Sato, 2023-03-08 This handbook explores the significance of the Indo Pacific in world politics It shows how the re emergence of the Indo Pacific in international relations has fundamentally changed the approach to politics economics and security The volume explores the themes related to trade politics and security for better understanding of the Indo Pacific and the repercussions of the region s emergence studies different security and political issues in the region military competition maritime governance strategic alliances and rivalries and international conflicts analyses various socio economic dimensions of the Indo Pacific such as political systems cultural and religious contexts and trade and financial systems examines the strategies of various states such as the United States Japan India and China and their approaches towards the Indo Pacific covers the role of middle powers and small states in detail Interdisciplinary in approach and with essays from authors from around the world this volume will be indispensable to scholars researchers and students in the fields of international relations politics and Asian studies

Asian Geopolitics and the US-China Rivalry Felix Heiduk, 2021-07-22 This book analyses the ways in which foreign policy actors in Asia have responded to the emerging great power conflict between the US and the People's Republic of China focusing on medium and small states across the Indo Pacific. The book offers a much needed counterpoint to existing analyses on the Indo Pacific and China's BRI and presents a new perspective by examining how great power politics are locally reinterpreted, conditioned or at times even contested. It illustrates the policy level challenges which the US-China rivalry poses for established political and economic practices and outlines how these challenges can be best addressed by smaller states and their societies. A timely assessment of the power play in the Indo Pacific with the angle of Sino-American rivalry, this book makes an important contribution to the study of Political Science, International Relations, Asian Studies and Security Studies. Alignment, Nonalignment, and Small Powers

Central Asia has become the battleground for the major struggles of the 21st century: radical Islam versus secularism, authoritarianism versus identity politics, Eastern versus Western control of resources and the American War on Terror. Nowhere are these conflicts more starkly illustrated than in the case of Tajikistan. Embedded in the oil-rich Central Asian region and bordering war-torn Afghanistan, Tajikistan occupies a geo-strategically pivotal position. It is also a major transit hub for the smuggling of opium, which eventually ends up in the hands of heroin dealers in Western cities. In this timely book, Lena Jonson examines Tajikistan's search for a foreign policy in the post-9/11 environment. She shows the internal contradictions of a country in every sense at the crossroads, reconciling its bloody past with an uncertain future. She assesses the impact of regional developments on the reform movement in Tajikistan and in turn examines how changes in Tajik society, which is the only Central Asian country to have a legal Islamist party, might affect the region. The destiny of Tajikistan is intimately connected with that of Central Asia, and this thorough and penetrating book is essential reading for anyone seeking to make sense of this complex and important region.

Neutrality Washington Center of Foreign Policy Research, 1961 AKASHVANI All India Radio (AIR), New Delhi, 1983-03-20

Akashvani English is a programme/journal of ALL INDIA RADIO; it was formerly known as The Indian Listener. It used to serve the listener as a Bradshaw of broadcasting and give the listener useful information in an interesting manner about programmes, who writes them, takes part in them and produces them, along with photographs of performing artists. It also contains the information of major changes in the policy and service of the organisation. The Indian Listener fortnightly programme/journal of AIR in English, published by The Indian State Broadcasting Service, Bombay, started on 22 December 1935 and was the successor to the Indian Radio Times in English, which was published beginning on July 16 of 1927. From 22 August 1937 onwards, it used to be published by All India Radio, New Delhi. From 1950, it was turned into a weekly journal. Later, The Indian Listener became Akashvani English on 5 January 1958. It was made a fortnightly journal again on 1 July 1983.
