

THE WORLD THAT PERISHED

The Transformation of Adam's World into Today's World

Rodinia

Most scientific and biblical geologists believe that all the land has been together more than once. One of these supercontinent periods is called "Rodinia" from the Russian word for "foundation". Although scientists continue to debate its exact shape, when God spoke the dry land into existence on Day 3 of Creation Week (Genesis 1:9-10), He may have created a wilderness similar to Rodinia.

Break-Up

Pangaea

Transitional Period

Today's World

Today, we are left with evidence that the continents moved apart in the past. For instance, the coasts of South America and Africa fit together like pieces of a puzzle.

Geological plate movement also explains the fascinating magnetic patterns found in ocean floor rocks. These rocks record a "wobbly zigzag" pattern of magnetic pole reversals, switching back and forth between north and south pole normal.

Flood Period

The worldwide Flood covered the entire globe under the highest mountains of that day to more than 10 cubits (up to 30 ft) deep (Genesis 7:18).

Break-Up

The Flood began with a breaking of the "ountains of the great deep" and an opening of the "windows of heaven" (Genesis 7:11, see below). This may have been the result of the breaking of the original supercontinent into large plates of the earth's crust. These plates split, moved, and collided throughout the duration of the Flood.

Pangaea

There is evidence that suggests that, after the break-up, the land again smoothed together, forming another supercontinent called Pangaea. This temporary supercontinent formed and broke up again during the Flood.

Transitional Period

Just during the Flood, Pangaea broke apart, first into Laurasia and Gondwana and finally into the continents we know today. At the end of this period the land or subcontinents remained into the Cretaceous period, forming the North American mountains.

"Fountains" and "Windows"

When Noah, his family, and their cargo of animals were safely aboard the Ark, the Flood began.

Thousands of miles of the earth's crust (surface rock plates) split apart along lines traversing the globe. The mantle hot rock beneath rose to fill the voids between the splitting plates. When the 3,000°F (1,600°C) rock contacted the cool seawater above it, the seawater boiled into steam. This formed a line of steam jets along the boundaries of the plates (possibly the "fountains of the great deep").

The immense and incredibly powerful steam jets and fens of thousands of feet into earth's atmosphere. Significant amounts of moisture were also lifted into the atmosphere. For several weeks, the heat to the earth as these giant jets (possibly the "windows of heaven").

The rising of the mantle through earth's crust also resulted in a temporary rise in the global sea level, causing the oceans to flood the continents.

These simultaneous activities resulted in the dramatic shifting of the earth's crust to produce today's seven continents.

Magnetic Reversals

While the catastrophic plate tectonic events that we equally hot from earth's outer core. This cycling resulted in the earth's magnetic field polarity reversing during the Flood. These magnetic reversals were expressed at the earth's surface as short periods of normal magnetization alternating with short periods of reversed magnetization. Illustrations 7-1-2 show how the reversals were expressed as a "wobbly zigzag" pattern on either side of the mid-ocean ridge.
