Why Everyone (Else) Is a Hypocrite Robert Kurzban, 2012-05-27 The evolutionary psychology behind human inconsistency We're all hypocrites Why Hypocrisy is the natural state of the human mind Robert Kurzban shows us that the key to understanding our behavioral inconsistencies lies in understanding the mind's design The human mind consists of many specialized units designed by the process of evolution by natural selection While these modules sometimes work together seamlessly they don't always result in impossibly contradictory beliefs vacillations between patience and impulsiveness violations of our supposed moral principles and overinflated views of ourselves This modular evolutionary psychological view of the mind undermines deeply held intuitions about ourselves as well as a range of scientific theories that require a self with consistent beliefs and preferences Modularity suggests that there is no I Instead each of us is a contentious we a collection of discrete but interacting systems whose constant conflicts shape our interactions with one another and our experience of the world In clear language full of wit and rich in examples Kurzban explains the roots and implications of our inconsistent minds and why it is perfectly natural to believe that everyone else is a hypocrite
