Absolute Music and the Construction of Meaning Daniel Chua, 1999-11-25 This book is born out of two contradictions first it explores the making of meaning in a musical form that was made to lose its meaning at the turn of the nineteenth century secondly it is a history of a music that claims to have no history absolute music The book therefore writes against that notion of absolute music which tends to be the paradigm for most musicological and analytical studies It is concerned not so much with what music is but with why and how meaning is constructed in instrumental music and what structures of knowledge need to be in place for such meaning to exist From the thought of Vincenzo Galilei to that of Theodore Adorno Daniel Chua suggests that instrumental music has always been a critical and negative force in modernity even with its nineteenth century apotheosis as absolute music

The Mind on Paper David R. Olson, 2016-11-07 Shows why reading and writing are essential to developing a consciousness of language that in turn lies at the core of rationality

Multimodal Chinese Discourse Dezheng (William) Feng, 2023-04-12 This book helps readers to understand communication and society in contemporary China through systematic analysis of multimodal discourse at the national institutional and individual levels China has undergone profound changes during the past decade or so Politically the Chinese government has been more proactive in domestic governance and foreign policies as manifested in the Chinese Dream campaign and the national image publicity films respectively Hand in hand with the socio political change is the rapid development of new media which has been changing how corporates do business how institutions brand their images as well as how individuals construct their identities and social relations These developments have brought about significant changes to the discursive practices at the national institutional and individual level characterized by the extensive use of multimodal resources and distinct promotional purposes Feng systematically investigates and discusses the new discursive features in relation to relevant socio cultural contexts The analysis and discussion provide researchers with a social semiotic perspective on various aspects of communicative and social changes in contemporary China The book also contributes to the growing field of multimodality by developing a set of cross disciplinary analytical frameworks to deal with complex discourse forms in print media moving images and new media The research findings provide a unique Chinese perspective on a broad spectrum of issues such as discursive governance nation branding university marketization and identity performance The book is relevant not only to discourse analysis and multimodality but also to other disciplines which will benefit from a systematic understanding of

Chinese discourse such as cultural studies communication studies and area China studies Film Music: A History James Wierzbicki, 2009-01-21 Film Music A History explains the development of film music by considering large scale aesthetic trends and structural developments alongside socioeconomic technological cultural and philosophical circumstances The book's four large parts are given over to Music and the Silent Film 1894 1927 Music and the Early Sound Film 1895 1933 Music in the Classical Style Hollywood Film 1933 1960 and Film Music in the Post Classic Period 1958 2008 Whereas most treatments of the subject are simply chronicles of great film scores and their composers this book offers a genuine history of film music in terms of societal changes and technological and economic developments within the film industry Instead of celebrating film music masterpieces it deals logically and thoroughly with the complex machine whose smooth running allowed those occasional masterpieces to happen and whose periodic adjustments prompted the large scale twists and turns in film music's path The Classical Style. Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven Charles Rosen, 1971 The Music Sound Nicolae Sfetcu, 2014-05-07 A guide for music compositions events forms genres groups history industry instruments language live music musicians songs musicology techniques terminology theory music video Music is a human activity which involves structured and audible sounds which is used for artistic or aesthetic entertainment or ceremonial purposes The traditional or classical European aspects of music often listed are those elements given primacy in European influenced classical music melody harmony rhythm tone color timbre and form A more comprehensive list is given by stating the aspects of sound pitch timbre loudness and duration Common terms used to discuss particular pieces include melody which is a succession of notes heard as some sort of unit chord which is a simultaneity of notes heard as some sort of unit chord progression which is a succession of chords simultaneity succession harmony which is the relationship between two or more pitches counterpoint which is the simultaneity and organization of different melodies and rhythm which is the organization of the durational aspects of music More-Than-Human Diasporas Joseph Pugliese, 2024-10-28 Pugliese's More Than Human Diasporas breaks the confines of existing scholarship in its vision of the way that more than human diasporic entities such as water trees clay stone and architectural styles have functioned as agents within the context of empire settler colonialism and a largely effaced history of Mediterranean enslavement a history that pre existed and then coincided with the Atlantic slave trade This book traces for example the diasporic travels of the eucalyptus from Indigenous Country to Joseph Banks botanical collection in London and then onto a grand English style garden in Southern Italy which was built on the historically effaced labour of enslaved people By deploying techniques of historical recovery this book brings to light otherwise buried histories thereby demonstrating the pivotal role of Mediterranean enslavement in the shaping of Italian society and culture This book develops a topological understanding of cultural history to account for the complex spatio temporal effects that connect seemingly disparate times spaces and more than human entities within networks of relationality In this innovative scholarly work more than human diasporic entities function as conceptual keys to histories which would otherwise remain hidden thereby revealing desubjugated knowledges which reconfigure anthropocentric histories and further the process of decolonisation This book will be of interest to readers interested in transnational and local histories of empire settler colonialism and slavery
