Collected Prose Rae Armantrout,2007 Cultural Writing Literary Criticism Essays These wide ranging talks essays and interviews beginning with Why Don t Women Do Language Oriented Writing and including Feminist Poetics and the Meaning of Clarity Poetic Silence and Cosmology and Me are essential documents for understanding not only Rae Armantrout s poetry and poetics but her contribution to the development of language poetry in particular and contemporary poetry in general Like her poetry Armantrout s prose is marked by concision a refreshing absence of jargon and a quizzical mind that never rests easy COLLECTED PROSE also features True Armantrout s illuminating autobiography which details her early years in San Diego and Berkeley Mystic Moderns James H. Thrall,2020-01-21 Mystic Moderns examines the responses of three British authors Evelyn Underhill 1875 1941 May Sinclair 1863 1946 and Mary Webb 1881 1927 to the emerging modernity of the long early twentieth century moment encompassing the First World War As they explored divergent but overlapping understandings of what mystical experience might be these authors rejected claims that modernity s celebration of the secular and rational left no place for the mystical rather they countered sensitivity to a greater reality could both establish and validate personal agency and was integral to their identities as modern women Their preoccupations with the dynamism of human connection drew on prevailing ideas of vital energy or life force developed by Arthur Schopenhauer and Henri

Bergson in ways that channeled modernity's erotic energy of change. By using their fiction to describe new self-authenticating forms of mysticism separate from either the prevailing orthodoxy of establishment Christianity or the extreme heterodoxy of their era's enthusiasm for paranormal experimentation, they also contributed to the rise of a generic concept of spirituality. Mystic Moderns thus offers historical perspective on contemporary claims for self-constructed, non-institutional spiritual experience associated with the claim "I'm spiritual, not religious." Working as they did within the shadow of the First World War, Underhill, Sinclair, and Webb were in the end attempting to determine what might be of authentic value for a modern age marked by ubiquitous death. While not themselves utopian authors, each was touched by her era's complicated hunger for the best of all possible worlds. Their constructions of how an individual should be and act in the midst of modernity thus simultaneously projected visions of what that modernity itself should become.
