A Concise Introduction to American Foreign Policy Festus Ugboaja Ohaegbulam,1999 Basically a specialist on Africa Ohaegbulam introduces US foreign policy emphasizing how policy making is accomplished in the complex domestic and external settings He surveys the development and characteristic patterns stressing the central themes and global experience especially since World War II He finds that no grand strategy has replaced the cold war framework and that a number of approaches are contending for dominance Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Gender in Third World Politics Georgina Waylen,1996 This book puts forward a gendered analysis of third world politics It uses a wide definition of the political to examine both high politics and political activity at the grassroots focussing particularly on women s organizations It also examines the impact of policy and politics on gender relations and on different groups of women After a general discussion of the major theoretical questions involved in the study of gender in third world politics and the nature of the third world and development the analysis is developed through the indepth study of different political formations These are colonialism revolution authoritarianism and democracy and democratization and uses examples from much of the third world Gender in Third World Politics is the only book to provide comprehensive coverage of gender in third world politics provides a gendered analysis of both high politics and different women s political activity at the grassroots weaves together material from a wide range of disciplines such as politics sociology history development studies and women s studies

Esprit de

Battuta Pamela Watson,1999 The author recounts her cycle journey across the continent of Africa recalling the joy and the poverty the beauty and terror of the peoples along the way She describes the despair of the awful roads life amid political unrest and village evenings Development and Politics from Below Barbara Bompani, Maria Frahm-Arp, 2010-07-16 The editors of this volume pose major challenges to the research community to re evaluate the concepts assumptions and methods that may veil rather than illuminate contemporary African societies and to develop a better understanding of the relationships between religion politics development and modernity The authors of the individual chapters make a valuable contribution to this research agenda by examining aspects of the place of religion in public spaces how religions function and shape people s lives communities and organizations and the role of religion in the sphere of health Carole Rakodi Director of the Religion and Development Research Programme International Development Department University of Birmingham UK

Vierteljahresberichte ,1989 Human Rights and Good Governance: Building Bridges Hans-Otto Sano, Gudmundur Alfredsson, Robin Clapp, 2002-04-03 While good governance is mainly pursued in a development context it is a central message of the book that good governance guidelines ought to have universal applicability affecting international organisations and public and private actors in Northern as well as Southern countries Yet an established consensus does not exist on how good governance and human rights can or should complement each other The book therefore assesses the advantages of using existing links and identifies ways of building new bridges for mutual support between governance and human rights
