The First Of Australia:

Australia's First Campaign Robert Stevenson, 2021-02-03 The Australian campaign to seize German New Guinea in 1914 is one of the forgotten episodes of the First World War Preceding the Gallipoli landings by seven months this remarkably successful amphibious operation was the very first of its kind undertaken by the Royal Australian Navy and the Australian Army The campaign was also everything the Gallipoli campaign was not the New Guinea operations were planned and executed by Australian officers the fighting was short sharp and successful and it was a highly effective use of military force achieving its operational objectives at a remarkably low cost and serving Australian strategic interests in a direct and tangible way This volume of the Army History Unit's Campaign Series describes how a novice navy and army planned mounted and launched a complex joint operation over 3300 kilometres from their mounting base and defeated or forced the withdrawal of German naval and land forces posing a direct threat to Australia and New Zealand Australia's First Campaign presents a fresh examination of the evidence from a range of participants providing a thoroughly researched and readable account of the Australian military's first joint operation The volume is supported by more than 100 illustrations and includes a useful guide for those wishing to visit the battlefield today

Boarding and Australia's First Peoples Marnie O'Bryan, 2022-02-03 This book takes us inside the complex lived experience of being a First Nations student in predominantly non Indigenous schools in Australia Built around the first hand narratives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander alumni from across the nation scholarly analysis is layered with personal accounts and reflections The result is a wide ranging and longitudinal exploration of the enduring impact of years spent boarding which challenges narrow and exclusively empirical measures currently used to define success in education Used as instruments of repression and assimilation boarding or residential schools have played a long and contentious role throughout the settler colonial world In Canada and North America the full scale of human tragedy associated with residential schools is still being exposed By contrast in contemporary Australia boarding schools are characterised as beacons of opportunity and hope places of empowerment and in the best of cultural restitution In this work young people interviewed over a span of seven years reflect in real time on the intended and unintended consequences boarding has had in their own lives They relate expected and dramatically unexpected outcomes They speak to the long term benefits of education and to the intergenerational reach of education policy This book assists practitioners and policy makers to critically review the structures policies and cultural assumptions embedded in the institutions in which they work to the benefit of First Nations students and their families It encourages new and collaborative approaches Indigenous education programs

Australia's First Online Community Ipswich Queensland Mal Bryce, 2010-12-07

Australia's First Rotary Club Owen Parnaby, 2002 The Rotary Club of Melbourne was the first of its kind in Australia Since its inaugural luncheon on 21 April 1921 the club has had an outstanding record of philanthropic endeavour and charity work as well as service to the cause of Rotary on the international scene The list of members of the early Melbourne club reads like a Who's Who of Australian businessmen since World War I. In later years with the increase in the number of Melbourne based clubs not to mention the admission of women members in the late 1980s the range and interests of members was less concentrated leading to a greater diversity of activities. The Melbourne club is now faced with changing social and economic conditions that are causing the breakdown of community cohesion. The first Rotary Club was born out of a response to the competitive and harsh business environment of Chicago in 1905. The Melbourne club is responding to similar conditions by seeing them as an opportunity to expand the tradition of service.
