

A misty forest path with a person in the distance. The scene is dimly lit, with a soft glow emanating from the center, creating a sense of mystery and atmosphere. The path is covered in fallen leaves, and the trees are dense and dark. A person is visible in the distance, walking away from the viewer.

The Invisible Season:

Invisible Seasons Kelly Belanger, 2017-01-03 In 1979 a group of women athletes at Michigan State University their civil rights attorney the institution's Title IX coordinator and a close circle of college students used the law to confront a powerful institution their own university By the mid 1970s opposition from the NCAA had made intercollegiate athletics the most controversial part of Title IX the 1972 federal law prohibiting discrimination in all federally funded education programs and activities At the same time some of the most motivated highly skilled women athletes in colleges and universities could no longer tolerate the long standing differences between men's and women's separate but obviously unequal sports programs In Invisible Seasons Belanger recalls the remarkable story of how the MSU women athletes helped change the landscape of higher education athletics They learned the hard way that even groundbreaking civil rights laws are not self-executing This behind the scenes look at a university sports program challenges us all to think about what it really means to put equality into practice especially in the money driven world of college sports

Partnering with Nature Catriona MacGregor, 2010-04-13 Partnering with Nature is a simple book with a powerful message our connections to the natural environment and ultimately to ourselves are crucial in today's fragmented world. As each successive generation moves farther away from nature, the growing disconnect is expressed through physical as well as mental stress from depression and fatigue in adults to attention disorders and obesity in children. The way we relate to nature helps define our place within it, and by awakening this natural yet dormant connection to the environment around us, we can move beyond solitary stewardship and into partnership. In Partnering with Nature, Catriona MacGregor weaves together scientific and historical wisdom, spiritual insights, and inspiring stories that illuminate the energies that link humans, animals, and the natural world. Through observation and conscious practice, we can open up to the power of nature to transform our lives, uplift our spirits, and even to direct our bodies to a healthier potential. For everyone who has a sense of something missing, who wishes to make a difference in their world, who yearns to reclaim their sense of wonder and awe, or who struggles with their health or emotional balance, nature speaks to all who will listen. Prosperity with Purpose Dr (Mrs) Doris Njoku (PhD), Prosperity with Purpose is a faith-filled call to redefine wealth not as accumulation but as stewardship, service, and Kingdom impact. Dr Mrs Doris Njoku PhD challenges the get-rich-quick mindset and replaces it with a sustainable, God-honouring approach to financial growth. Through scripture-based principles and practical tools, readers learn how to build income ethically, develop a wealth-building mindset, manage money wisely, overcome financial temptations, and embrace generosity as a lifestyle. This is not a prosperity gospel and not a secular finance manual; it is a balanced guide for believers who want financial increase without sacrificing integrity. Whether you're an entrepreneur, professional, ministry leader, or young adult starting your journey, this book equips you to build wealth that glorifies God, blesses others, and lasts for generations. From the streets of early struggle to the weight of leadership, The Process: In Purpose On Purpose tells the powerful journey of Daniel J Dockery, a life marked by failure, redemption, and a calling too great to ignore. Through raw honesty and biblical truth, Dockery shares the battles that nearly broke him, the moments of grace that saved him, and the seasons of testing that shaped him into a servant leader. Each chapter reveals how God weaves pain into purpose, setbacks into strength, and trials into testimonies. This is not just a memoir; it's a guide for anyone wrestling with identity, calling, or the cost of leadership. Whether you're at the beginning of your journey, struggling in the shadows, or carrying the weight of influence, this book will remind you: God is at work in your process. You are not disqualified. You are being prepared. Selection, Adapted
