Via Architecture And Shadow:

Architecture and Shadow David Murray, 1990      Cézanne's Shadows Nancy Locke, 2025-04-22 Modernism has often been described as a rejection of the art of the past but Cézanne's Shadows makes an eloquent case for precisely the opposite artistic practice In this book Nancy Locke argues that the idea of a modernist forgetting would never have taken hold if the modernist painters themselves and Cézanne in particular had not wrestled so fiercely with the work of their predecessors Cézanne routinely interrupted his work with a model to go back to the Louvre or to consult sketches and studies he did after the old masters Exploring the importance of Cézanne's involvement with the art of the past in essays devoted to Poussin Chardin and Rubens Locke argues that Cézanne's art cannot be understood without an investigation into what he made of these earlier models and how they continued to haunt even his mature work Cézanne's Shadows offers an elegant new model for understanding the relationship between modernist painting and the creative tradition it often feigns to reject This study of artistic ambitions and an analysis of nineteenth century art writing will be especially valuable to scholars of modernism and European art history

Shadow-Makers Stephen Kite, 2017-10-19 The making of shadows is an act as old as architecture itself From the gloom of the medieval hearth through to the masterworks of modernism shadows have been an essential yet neglected presence in architectural history Shadow Makers tells for the first time the history of shadows in architecture It weaves together a rich narrative combining close readings of significant buildings both ancient and modern with architectural theory and art history to reveal the key places and moments where shadows shaped architecture in distinctive and dynamic ways It shows how shadows are used as an architectural instrument of form composition and visual effect while also exploring the deeper cultural context tracing differing conceptions of their meaning and symbolism whether as places of refuge devotion terror occult practice sublime experience or as metaphors of the unconscious Within a chronological framework encompassing medieval baroque enlightenment sublime picturesque and modernist movements a wide range of topics are explored from Hawksmoor's London churches Japanese temple complexes and the shade patterns of Islamic cities to Ruskin in Venice and Aldo Rossi and Louis Kahn in the 20th century This beautifully illustrated study seeks to understand the work of these shadow makers through their drawings their writings and through the masterpieces they built

Drawing Imagining Building Paul Emmons, 2019-04-01 Drawing Imagining Building focuses on the history of hand drawing practices to capture some of the most crucial and overlooked parts of the process Using 80 black and white images to illustrate the examples it examines architectural drawing practices to elucidate the ways drawing advances the architect's imagination Emmons considers drawing practices in the Renaissance and up to the first half of the twentieth century Combining systematic analysis across time with historical explication presents the development of hand drawing while also grounding early modern practices in their historical milieu Each of the illustrated chapters considers formative aspects of architectural drawing practice such as upright elevations flowing lines and occult lines and drawing scales to identify their roots in an embodied approach to show how hand drawing contributes to the architect's productive imagination. By documenting some of the ways of thinking through practices of architectural hand-drawing, it describes how practices can enrich the ethical imagination of the architect. This book would be beneficial for academics, practitioners, and students of architecture, particularly those who are interested in the history and significance of hand drawing and technical drawing.

Architecture Post Mortem, Dr David Bertolini, Dr Simone Brott, Professor Donald Kunze, 2013-09-28. Architecture Post Mortem surveys architecture's encounter with death, decline, and ruination following late capitalism. As the world moves closer to an economic abyss that many perceive to be the death of capital, contraction and crisis are no longer mere phases of normal market fluctuations but rather the irruption of the unconscious of ideology itself. Post mortem is that historical moment wherein architecture's symbolic contract with capital is put on stage, naked to all. Architecture is not irrelevant to fiscal and political contagion as is commonly believed; it is the victim and penetrating analytical agent of the current crisis. As the very apparatus for modernity's guilt and unfulfilled drives, modernity's debt, architecture is that ideological element that functions as a master signifier of its own destruction, ordering all other signifiers and modes of signification beneath it. It is under these conditions that architecture theory has retreated to an Alamo of history, a final desert outpost where history has been asked to transcend itself. For architecture's hoped-for utopia always involves an apocalypse. This timely collection of essays reformulates architecture's relation to modernity via the operational death drive: architecture is but a passage between life and death. This collection includes essays by Kazi K Ashraf, David Bertolini, Simone Brott, Peggy Deamer, Didem Ekici, Paul Emmons, Donald Kunze, Todd McGowan, Gevork Hartoonian, Nadir Lahiji, Erika Naginski, and Dennis Maher. Via, 1990. Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl. Avery Library, 1990. Constructing Identity, "souped-up" and "unplugged", 1998. FPGA 2008, 2008. Petri Nets and Performance Models, IEEE Computer Society Press, Training Publications Limited, 1991-12. The proceedings of the Fourth International Workshop on title, December 1991, Melbourne, Australia. Twenty-six papers, four research briefs, and two keynote addresses present research results and directions in the areas of Petri nets and their timed and stochastic extensions and in their application to a wide variety of systems including computing, communication, and manufacturing. No subject index. Acidic paper. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc, Portland, OR. Natural Light and the Italian Piazza, Sandra Davis Lakeman, 1994. Lakeman architecture, California Polytechnic State U, discusses design elements and the element of light in the medieval architecture of Italy and examines the relationship between space and light and the way we experience them, focusing on Siena's Piazza del Campo. Includes some 90 color photos. Intersight, 1999. The Architectural Forum, 1929. Building, 1890. Tropical Architecture, Alexander Tzonis, Bruno Zevi, Liane Lefavre, 2001. The tropical region covers a significant proportion of the globe, and yet its architecture receives relatively little outside comment or exposure. Dispersed widely throughout the world, the region incorporates areas as far-flung as the Caribbean islands, India, South East Asia, and large parts of Australia, Africa, and South and Central America Despite their great cultural diversity these areas share both climatic and ecological factors as well as a post colonial condition and the pressures of modernization in the world of globalization Architects reactions to the tropical context are as varied as the region is diverse Tropical Architecture brings together architects and critics from throughout the tropical region examining the implications of the opposing forces of tradition and innovation and the struggle between global and local order Among the issues covered are sustainability bio and cultural diversity micro climatic control and technology and multi disciplinary design The argument centres on Critical Regionalism a concept introduced into the architectural debate in the early 1980s by two of the book s co authors Tzonis and Lefaivre This is not a style but rather an approach to architecture that asks for design to be conceived in response to the needs and opportunities of a specific region although it is not inherently opposed to global potentials The theoretical debate is backed up by case studies of a range of projects from small scale designs using minimal technology to super sophisticated high tech solutions and from schemes that look to environmental comfort to ones concerned with issues of symbolism and memory It is out of this multiplicity of approaches that the general global lesson of Critical Regionalism as applied to tropical architecture is to be found THE PRINCE CLAUS FUND stimulates and supports activities in the field of culture and development by granting awards funding and producing publications and by financing and promoting networks and innovative cultural activities Support is given both to persons and to organizations in African Asian Latin American and Caribbearn countries Palos Verdes Bulletin ,1927 The Impermanent Space Le D.
