When The Grab Is Gone Development Int:

International Conflict over Water Resources in Himalayan Asia R. Wirsing, C. Jasparro, D. Stoll, 2012-11-16 The authors explore the fresh water crisis of Himalayan Asia While the region hosts some of the world's mightiest rivers it is also home to rapidly modernizing increasingly affluent and demographically multiplying societies ensuring the rapid depletion of water resources and of disputes over ownership of transboundary waters

Recentring Africa in International Relations Marta Iñiguez de Heredia, Zubairu Wai, 2018-02-22 This innovative book responds to an existing demand for taking Africa out of a place of exception and marginality and placing it at the center of international relations and world politics Bringing together a number of scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds to stage a critical intervention into the problematic ways Africa is accounted for in the dominant discourses of international relations and global politics it challenges the structural and epistemic biases of IR that render the contributions of the continent invisible and situates the continent as a global region that exists beyond notions of lack disorder and failure Through these interventions the volume contributes to a rethinking of IR and the conditions of possibility for imagining a world otherwise beyond frames that fetishize Africa paradoxically as transparent and invisible

International Journal of Afro-Asian Studies, International Journal of Economics and Business Studies, Home and International Law Henrietta Zeffert, 2024-03-26 This book is about home and international law More specifically it is about the profound and frequently devastating transformations of home that are happening almost everywhere in the world today and what international law has to do with them Through three stories of home the desert home the lake home and the city home this book traces how the everyday operations of international law shape the material affective and imaginative experience of home It argues that international law's homemaking work is characterised by acts of domination practices of resistance and the production of unhomely spaces However the book also considers whether and how the liberatory potential of international law could be unlocked through the metaphor of home This book draws from fieldwork conducted by the author in Palestine Cambodia and the United Kingdom It takes a global socio legal approach to home and international law informed by feminist political theory feminist geography home studies and contemporary critical approaches to international law It is the first academic work to examine the relationship between home and international law This book's global socio legal approach to home and international law will be of interest to those teaching and studying in international law socio legal studies legal pluralism and legal geography

Development and Food Security in Africa Renu Modi,Fantu Cheru,2013-08-08 The subject of food security and land issues in Africa has become one of increased importance and contention over recent years In particular the focus has shifted to the role new global South donors especially India China and Brazil are playing in shaping African agriculture through their increased involvement and investment in the continent Approaching the topic through the framework of South South co operation this highly original volume presents a critical analysis of the ways in which Chinese Indian and Brazilian engagements in African agriculture are structured and implemented Do these investments have the potential to create new opportunities to improve local living standards transfer new technology and knowhow to African producers and reverse the persistent productivity decline in African agriculture Or will they simply aggravate the problem of food insecurity by accelerating the process of land alienation and displacement of local people from their land Topical and comprehensive
