The Implications of Value Conflict Marina Kouzakova, Naomi Ellemers, Sophia Fieke Harinck, Daan Scheepers, 2011 We present two studies demonstrating the implications of having different values vs instrumental concerns in a situation where people take conflicting positions Study 1 N 266 examined how people respond to a range of conflict issues that were framed either as referring to conflicting values or as referring to conflicting interests Study 2 N 77 used a more immersive methodology in which participants were led to consider either their values or interests in taking up a particular position after which they were presented with a confederate who took up the opposite position Results of both studies converge to demonstrate that framing a particular conflict issue in terms of values causes people to experience more self involvement and to perceive less common ground This is seen as a potential explanation of why value conflicts tend to more easily escalate than conflicts of interests but also offers scope for interventions that try to de escalate and resolve the conflict by emphasizing instrumental rather than value differences
