

Guidelines for Writing Your Employee Self-Assessment

Purpose

The purpose of an Employee Self-Assessment is to assist employees and supervisors in preparing for performance evaluations. Completing the self-assessment allows you contribute to the performance discussion. Your self-assessment can help you to reflect on your performance over the past year and to document your accomplishments and their impact on your department. It is also an opportunity to link the UC Core Competencies to your job duties, address your resource and development needs, and document the accomplishment of your annual goals.

Preparation

- As you prepare to write your self-assessment, begin by reviewing documentation about your work such as your job description, performance expectations and annual goals.
- If you keep a performance log to track major accomplishments and work throughout the year, review your log to help you reconstruct your performance over the past year. If not, take time to review your calendar and other records of your work.
- Reflect on the purpose of your job and how it contributes to the mission of your department, division, and the organization.

Writing Your Employee Self-Assessment

- Identify your work priorities over the past year based on your goals and objectives, discussions with your supervisor, or tasks.
- For each priority, describe your work and accomplishments. Questions to address include:
  - What exactly was the work or task?
  - How was success measured? Possibilities include: impact, quantity, quality, accuracy, timeliness, budget, customer satisfaction and a combination of these or other measures.
  - What was the impact of your work on your department and the organization?
  - What obstacles did you have to overcome?

Tips

- Be specific. Don't say, "Supported the student records project." Instead, indicate what you did specifically and how it supported the overall goals.
- Be objective and stay focused on results.
- While it is important to be thorough, a self-assessment doesn't have to be long to be effective.
