Thomas Gray Philosopher Cat:

Thomas Gray, Philosopher Cat Philip J. Davis, 1988      Thomas Gray in Copenhagen Philip J. Davis, 1995-07-21 A sequel to the widely successful Thomas Gray Philosopher Cat Philip J. Davis latest continues the adventures of the internationally popular feline and friend Could it be that Hans Christian Andersen who wrote so lovingly of inchworms and ugly ducklings was an unrepentant despiser of cats That s the rumor that the philosophical feline Thomas Gray and cohort Cambridge don Lucas Fysst whose last name doesn t rhyme with fist are determined to snuff out In Copenhagen to attend a philosophers convention they go on the hunt for a missing Andersen manuscript that will set the record straight A whimsically written and illustrated tale part history part parody and all fun Davis is Professor Emeritus of Applied Mathematics at Brown University and author of No Way Essays on the Impossible      Planet Cat Sandra Choron, Harry Choron, Arden Moore, 2007 Presents more than four hundred lists on various information on cats including cat breeds training and behavior as well as such topics as famous cats in history cat food recipes and gifts for pampered cats      Mathematical Encounters of the Second Kind Philip J. Davis, 2012-12-06 A number of years ago Harriet Sheridan then Dean of Brown University organized a series of lectures in which individual faculty members described how it came about that they entered their various fields I was invited to participate in this series and found in the invitation an opportunity to recall events going back to my early teens The lecture was well received and its reception encouraged me to work up an expanded version My manuscript lay dormant all these years In the meanwhile sufficiently many other mathematical experiences and encounters accumulated to make this little book My 1981 lecture is the basis of the first piece Napoleon s Theorem Although there is a connection between the first piece and the second the four pieces here are essentially independent The second piece Carpenter and the Napoleon Ascription has as its object a full description of a certain type of scholar storyteller of whom I have known and admired several It is a pastiche containing a salad bar selection blended together by my own imagination This piece purports as a secondary goal to present a solution to a certain unsolved historical problem raised in the first piece The third piece The Man Who Began His Lectures with Namely is a short reminiscence of Stefan Bergman one of my teachers of graduate mathematics Bergman a remarkable person ality was born in Poland and came to the United States in 1939 present when the Industrial Revolution and spectacular progress in science and technology triggered an influx of science fiction works speculating on the future As scientific developments alter expectations for the future the literature absorbs uses and adapts such contextual visions The goal of the Encyclopedia is not to present a catalog of sciences and their application in literary fiction but rather to study the ongoing flow and counterflow of influences including how fictional representations of science affect how we view its practice and disciplines Although the main focus is on literature other forms of science fiction including film and video games are explored and because science is an international matter works from non English speaking countries are discussed as needed New Scientist ,1995 Poetic Commonplace Books
