Timothy Mo:

Timothy Mo Elaine Yee Lin Ho, 2000 This collection brings together studies of popular performance and politics across the nineteenth century offering a fresh perspective from an archivally grounded research base It works with the concept that politics is performative and performance is political The book is organised into three parts in dialogue regarding specific approaches to popular performance and politics Part I offers a series of conceptual studies using popular culture as an analytical category for social and political history Part II explores the ways that performance represents and constructs contemporary ideologies of race nation and empire Part III investigates the performance techniques of specific politicians including Robert Peel Keir Hardie and Henry Hyndman and analyses the performative elements of collective movements

Asian English Writers of Chinese Origin Amy Tak-yee Lai, 2009-10-02 This is the first book to bring together nine Asian English writers of Chinese descent from Singapore Malaysia and Hong Kong Catherine Lim Christine Lim Ee Tiang Hong Kee Thuan Chye Lee Kok Liang Shirley Lim Timothy Mo Xu Xi and Agnes Lam It discusses how the withdrawal of colonial power and the implementation of nation building policies impact race ethnicity class and language in these former British colonies The last chapters take a special look at postcolonialism and gender politics and explore how Chinese women at home or abroad defy the Orientalist gaze and the native patriarchy

Cultures in Movement Martine Raibaud, Ionut Untea, Micéala Symington, 2015-02-05 The contributors to this volume encourage a re thinking of the very notion of culture by examining the experiences situations and the representations of those who chose or were forced to change cultures from the nineteenth century to the present day Beyond a simple study of migration forced or otherwise this collective work also re examines the model of integration As recent entrants into new social settings may be perceived as affecting the previously accepted social equilibrium mechanisms encouraging or inhibiting population flows are sometimes put in place From this perspective integration may become less a matter of internal choice than an external obligation imposed by the dominant political power in which case integration may only be a euphemism for cultural uniformity The strategies of cultural survival developed as a reaction to such a rising tide of cultural uniformity can be seen as necessary points of departure for an ever growing shared multiculturalism A long term voluntary commitment to make cultural boundaries more flexible and allow a more engaged individual participation in the process of defining the self and finding its place within a culture in movement may represent a key element for cultural cohesion in a globalized world

Eating and Identity in Postcolonial Fiction Paul Vlitos, 2018-10-11 This book focuses on the fiction of four postcolonial authors V S Naipaul Anita Desai Timothy Mo and Salman Rushdie It argues that meals in their novels act as sites where the relationships between the individual subject and the social identities of race class and gender are enacted Drawing upon a variety of academic fields and disciplines including postcolonial theory historical research food studies and recent attempts to rethink the concept of world literature it dedicates a chapter to each author tracing the literary cultural and historical contexts in which their texts are located and exploring the ways in which food and the act of eating acquire meanings and how those meanings might clash collide and be disputed Not only does this book offer suggestive new readings of the work of its four key authors but it challenges the reader to consider the significance of food in postcolonial fiction more generally
