Understanding Religious Conversion Lewis Ray Rambo, 1993-01-01 Looking at a wide variety of religions this work offers an exploration of religious conversion The phenomena is approached from a variety of disciplines including psychology sociology theology and anthropology Understanding Religious Conversion Lewis Ray Rambo, 1993 Understanding Religious Conversion Dong Young Kim, 2012-07-20 Understanding Religious Conversion begins with emphasis on the value of respecting religious theological interpretations of conversion while coordinating social scientific studies of how personal social and cultural issues are relevant to the human transformational process It encourages us to bring together the perspectives of psychology sociology anthropology and religious studies into critical and mutually informing conversation for establishing a richer and more accurate perception of the complex phenomenon of religious conversion The case of St Augustine s conversion experience superbly illustrates the complicated and multidimensional process of religious change By critically extending the contributions of the literature within Lewis Rambo s interdisciplinary framework Dong Young Kim presents a more integrated picture of how personal social cultural and religious theological components interact with one another in the process of Augustine s conversion In doing so he has struggled with how to relocate more effectively and practically the conversion narrative of Augustine within the context of pastoral care and ministry and the field of the academy in order to facilitate a better understanding of the conversion stories of the church members as well as to enhance the experiences of religious conversion within the Christian community Understanding Religious Conversion Dong Young Kim, 2012-07-20 Understanding Religious Conversion begins with emphasis on the value of respecting religious theological interpretations of conversion while coordinating social scientific studies of how personal social and cultural issues are relevant to the human transformational process It encourages us to bring together the perspectives of psychology sociology anthropology and religious studies into critical and mutually informing conversation for establishing a richer and more accurate perception of the complex phenomenon of religious conversion The case of St Augustine s conversion experience superbly illustrates the complicated and multidimensional process of religious change By critically extending the contributions of the literature within Lewis Rambo s interdisciplinary framework Dong Young Kim presents a more integrated picture of how personal social cultural and religious theological components interact with one another in the process of Augustine s conversion In doing so he has struggled with how to relocate more effectively and practically the conversion narrative of Augustine within the context of pastoral care and ministry and the field of the academy in order to facilitate a better understanding of the conversion stories of the church members as well as to enhance the experiences of religious conversion within the Christian community Understanding Religious Conversion Lewis Rambo, 1996

Understanding Religious Change in Africa and Europe: Crossing Latitudes Nathan Irmiya Elawa, 2020-04-15 This book examines and compares the religious experience of an African group with a European one It offers an ethnographical investigation of the Jukun of north central Nigeria The author also organically weaves into the narrative the Christianization of the Irish in a comparative fashion Throughout he makes the case for an African Christianity connected to a Celtic Irish Christianity and vice versa as different threads in a tapestry This work is a product of a synthesis of archival research in three continents interviews with surviving first generation Christians who were active practitioners of the Jukun indigenous religion and with former missionaries to the Jukun On the Irish side it draws from extant primary sources and interviews with scholars in Celtic Irish studies In addition pictures diagrams and excerpts from British colonial and missionary journals provide a rich contextual understanding of Jukun religious life and practices The author is among the emerging voices in the study of World Christianity who advocate for the reality of poly centres for Christianity This perspective recognizes voices from the Global South in the expansion of Christianity This book serves as a valuable resource for historians anthropologists theologians and those interested in missions studies both scholars and lay readers seeking to deepen their understanding of World Christianity

Shalom, the Spirit and Pentecostal Conversion Grace Milton,2015-08-17 In Shalom the Spirit and Pentecostal Conversion Grace Milton presents a uniquely practical theological model of Pentecostal conversion centered on empirical data from a congregational case study Pentecostal Charismatic conversion is commonly equated with a dramatic Damascus road type event which directly opposes prevailing theories within the social sciences that conversion is a more gradual process over time This raises the question how far do these Pentecostal stereotypes reflect lived experience In this book for the first time the experiences and beliefs of ordinary Pentecostal believers are drawn into conversation with conversion theories from the human sciences sociology psychology and anthropology and theology The result is a distinctly Pentecostal model of conversion which interprets religious transformation through the theological lens of Shalom

Shepherds of the Steppes Mark D. Wood,2023-06-01 The evangelical Mongolian church has experienced significant growth since the country opened to the world in 1990 Despite the growth and emergence of the evangelical church in Mongolia relatively little has been written on the church from the perspective of the leaders themselves This ethnographic study seeks to express the experience of male evangelical Mongolian church leaders in their own words The book focuses specifically on the leaders experiences of conversion discipleship navigation of Mongolian culture and traditions and theological education Readers will hear from evangelical church leaders why they became Christians and what their experience with discipleship was like for them The issue of contextualization for evangelical Christians is also a central focus In particular the translation of the term for God in Mongolian and the perspective of the church leaders are explored This book will be of interest to those exploring Christianity in Asia and post socialist contexts as well as seeking to better understand contemporary Mongolian culture

The Oxford Handbook of Religious Conversion Lewis Rambo,Charles E. Farhadian,2014 The Oxford Handbook of Religious Conversion offers a comprehensive exploration of the dynamics of religious conversion which for centuries has profoundly shaped societies cultures and individuals throughout the world Scholars from a wide array of religions and disciplines interpret both the varieties of conversion experiences and the processes that inform this personal and communal phenomenon This volume examines the experiences of individuals and communities who change religions those who experience an intensification of their religion of origin and those who encounter new religions through colonial intrusion missionary work and charismatic and revitalization movements The thirty two innovative essays provide overviews of the history of particular religions including Hinduism Buddhism Confucianism Taoism Sikhism Islam Christianity Judaism indigenous religions and new religious movements The essays also offer a wide range of disciplinary perspectives psychological sociological anthropological legal political feminist and geographical on methods and theories deployed in understanding conversion and insight into various forms of deconversion

Understanding Religious Life Frederick J. Streng,1976      African Conversion Brendan Patrick Carmody,2001

Review of Religious Research ,2005-09      Education in Zambia Brendan Patrick Carmody,1999 This book fills a gap by providing a much needed history of Catholic missionary education in Zambia It traces the contribution of the Catholic Church s contribution to the development of education in Zambia over more than a century providing more widely an overview of Zambia s educational history and insights into the development of the country s political history It articulates the perspectives of missionaries and officials of education departments of Zambian students lecturers and administrators The study further vividly illustrates how the mission school generated creative tension between modernity and education and Christian conversion and analyses the psychological impacts of religious conversion and how these have been played out in Zambia It argues that in the circumstances Catholic schools have been instruments of liberation in Zambia but duly recognises the ambiguities of modernisation and the need to respect and acknowledge the riches of local tradition      Faith Seeks Understanding Arthur Frank Holmes,1971 A book that has been needed for several years It certainly will be one of the most important evangelical books of the year Its exploration of possible Christian answers to some of the basic problems of philosophy is thoughtful well written and bears all the marks of having been written by a highly competent philosopher Ronald H Nash Western Kentucky University      Comprehending Cults Lorne L. Dawson,2006 Tackling popular misconceptions about new religious movements Comprehending Cults summarizes synthesizes and assesses over 40 years of research by historians sociologists and psychologists This excellent introduction to the study of new religious groups offers a balanced treatment of new movements as a source of spiritual satisfaction while confronting issues of violence sexuality and brainwashing within religious cults      Religious and Ritual Change Pamela J. Stewart,Andrew Strathern,2009 The topic of religious and ritual change including conversion from one modality of practices to another has emerged in recent years as a prime focus of scholarly attention in anthropology and related disciplines such as history sociology political science and religious studies Conversion to Christianity is one focus that has developed within this broad and dynamic field of investigations This edited volume is a unique set of studies that explores this field further with a doubly innovative approach

First the chapters represent a collaboration of leading scholars from Taiwan and from the USA and Europe Second the studies involve a comparative dimension juxtaposing work done among indigenous Austronesian minorities in Taiwan and work done in the Pacific Islands Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands Within this collection of essays common processes of change are evident while the importance of specific histories is revealed and analytical and theoretical issues are probed and reviewed in ways that demonstrate their relevance to the overall dimensions of comparison No other work in this arena of study has brought together scholars with such a comparative framework in mind This volume is relevant for scholars and students of religious change generally as well as those readers who are interested in the wider Asia Pacific region minority groups Christianity indigenous movements and the socialization of the ritual body in contexts of historical and cosmological change This book is part of the Ritual Studies Monograph Series edited by Pamela J Stewart and Andrew Strathern Department of Anthropology University of Pittsburgh A wide range of views are offered Overall the book offers itself as a detailed archive of ethnographic information for further analysis and interpretation of these and other issues

Religion and Society Advances in Research British Muslim Converts Kate Zebiri,2008 The only exploration of this unique group in British society this well argued and powerful book investigates the fascinating contribution that Western converts to Islam are making to a distinctive take on Islamic thought and discourse Informed by interviews with British converts as well as published and internet material Zebiri asks whether converts could act as much needed mediators in the growing divide between Islam and the West
