Vanishing Tracks Darla Hillard, 1990 The Nature Adventures and Discovery Puzzles Lucy Clark, 2025-05-20 The Nature Adventures and Discovery Puzzles takes young explorers on an exciting journey through the natural world Aimed at children aged 5 to 10 this book challenges young minds to solve nature based puzzles from identifying animal tracks and plants to decoding sounds and finding hidden treasures Each chapter introduces a new outdoor adventure that teaches kids about ecosystems wildlife and environmental conservation Packed with fun engaging challenges this book encourages critical thinking teamwork and environmental awareness Get ready to embark on a thrilling journey where every puzzle helps unlock the mysteries of nature Crocodile tracks and traces Jesper Milàn, Spencer G. Lucas, Martin G. Lockley, Justin A. Spielmann, 2010-01-01 The Vanishing American Zane Grey, 1925 Romance of the American Indian the tragedy and glory of the race Forgetting Lot's Wife Martin Harries, 2009-08-25 Can looking at disaster and mass death destroy us Forgetting Lot's Wife provides a theory and a fragmentary history of destructive spectatorship in the twentieth century Its subject is the notion that the sight of historical catastrophe can destroy the spectator The fragments of this history all lead back to the story of Lot's wife looking back at the destruction of the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah she turns into a pillar of salt This biblical story of punishment and transformation a nexus of sexuality sight and cities becomes the template for the modern fear that looking back at disaster might petrify the spectator Although rarely articulated directly this idea remains powerful in our culture This book traces some of its aesthetic theoretical and ethical consequences Harries traces the figure of Lot's wife across media In extended engagements with examples from twentieth century theater film and painting he focuses on the theatrical theory of Antonin Artaud a series of American films and paintings by Anselm Kiefer These examples all return to the story of Lot's wife as a way to think about modern predicaments of the spectator On the one hand the sometimes veiled figure of Lot's wife allows these artists to picture the desire to destroy the spectator on the other she stands as a sign of the potential danger to the spectator These works that is enact critiques of the very desire that inspires them The book closes with an extended meditation on September 11 criticizing the notion that we should have been destroyed by witnessing the events of that day The Flaming Sword, 1900 Advances in Audio and Speech Signal Processing: Technologies and Applications Perez-Meana, Hector, 2007-02-28 This book provides a comprehensive approach of signal processing tools regarding the enhancement recognition and protection of speech and audio signals It offers researchers and practitioners the information they need to develop and implement efficient signal processing algorithms in the enhancement field Provided by publisher Works graf Leo Tolstoy, 1904 The Vanishing Tribes of Kenya Sir Granville St. John Orde-Browne, 1925 Re-Imagining the First World War Anna Branach-Kallas, Nelly Strehlau, 2015-09-18 In the Preface to his ground breaking The Great War and Modern Memory 1975 Paul Fussell claimed that the dynamics and iconography of the Great War have proved crucial political rhetorical and artistic determinants on subsequent life Forty years after the publication of Fussell's study the contributors to this volume reconsider whether the myth generated by World War I is still part of the fiber of people's lives in English speaking countries What is the place of the First World War in cultural memory today How have the literary means for remembering the war changed since the war Can anything new be learned from the effort to re imagine the First World War after other bloody conflicts of the 20th century A variety of answers to these questions are provided in Re Imagining the First World War New Perspectives in Anglophone Literature and Culture which explores the Great War in British Irish Canadian Australian and post colonial contexts The contributors to this collection write about the war from a literary perspective reinterpreting poetry fiction letters and essays created during or shortly after the war exploring contemporary discourses of commemoration and presenting in depth studies of complex conceptual issues such as gender and citizenship Re Imagining the First World War also includes historical philosophical and sociological investigations of the first industrialised conflict of the 20th century which focus on responses to the Great War in political discourse life writing music and film from the experience of missionaries isolated during the war in the Arctic and Asia through colonial encounters exploring the role of Irish Chinese and Canadian First Nations soldiers during the war to the representation of war in the world famous series Downton Abbey and the 2013 album released by contemporary Scottish rock singer Fish The variety of themes covered by the essays here not only confirms the significance of the First World War in memory today but also illustrates the necessity of developing new approaches to the first global conflict and of commemorating new victims and agents of war If modes of remembrance have changed with the postmodern ethical shift in historiography and cultural studies which encourages the exploration of other subjectivities in war so far concealed affinities and reverberations are still being discovered on the macro and micro historical levels the Western and other fronts the battlefield and the home front Although it has been a hundred years since the outbreak of hostilities there is a need for increased sensitivity to the tension between commemoration and contestation and to re member re conceptualise and re imagine the Great War
