Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Luna Filipovi?,Kasia M. Jaszczolt,Katarzyna Jaszczolt,2012 This volume offers novel insights into linguistic diversity in the domains of spatial and temporal reference searching for uniformity amongst diversity A number of authors discuss expression of dynamic spatial relations cross linguistically in a vast range of typologically different languages such as Bezhta French Hinuq Italian Japanese Polish Serbian and Spanish among others The contributions on linguistic expression of time all shed new light on pertinent questions regarding this cognitive domain such as the hotly debated relationship between cross linguistic differences in talking about time and universal principles of utterance interpretation modelling temporal inference through aspectual interactions as well as the complexity of the acquisition of tense aspect relations in a second language The topic of space and time in language and culture is also represented from a different point of view in the sister volume Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Language Culture and Cognition HCP 37 which discusses spatial and temporal constructs in human language cognition and culture in order to come closer to a better understanding of the interaction between shared and individual characteristics of language and culture that shape the way people interact with each other and exchange information about the spatio temporal constructs that underlie their cognitive social and linguistic foundations

The Structure of Time Vyvyan Evans, 2004-03-05 One of the most enigmatic aspects of experience concerns time Since pre Socratic times scholars have speculated about the nature of time asking questions such as What is time Where does it come from Where does it go The central proposal of The Structure of Time is that time at base constitutes a phenomenologically real experience Drawing on findings in psychology neuroscience and utilising the perspective of cognitive linguistics this work argues that our experience of time may ultimately derive from perceptual processes which in turn enable us to perceive events As such temporal experience is a pre requisite for abilities such as event perception and comparison rather than an abstraction based on such phenomena The book represents an examination of the nature of temporal cognition with two foci i an investigation into pre conceptual temporal experience and ii an analysis of temporal structure at the conceptual level which derives from temporal experience
