to GDP levels We use two separate databases a novel contemporary database covering 139 countries from 1965 to 2011 and a historical database for 30 advanced economies from 1800 to 1980 We find that the answer to the question is yes Estimated tipping points are similar at about 123 4 percent of GDP For the contemporary dataset we find that a country just above the threshold will have GDP per capita 7 5 percent larger after 10 years The effect is tightly estimated and economically large
