Interactive Multiple Goal Programming J. Spronk, 2012-12-06 1 1 Motivation This book is based on the view that both public and private decision making in practice can often be improved upon by means of formal nonnative decision models and methods To some extent the validity of this statement can be measured by the impressive number of successes of disciplines as operations research and management science However as witnessed by the many discussions in the professional journals in these fields many models and methods do not completely meet the requirements of decision making in practice Of all possible origins of these clear shortcomings we mainly focus on only one the fact that most of these models and methods are unsuitable for decision situations in which multiple and possibly conflicting objectives play a role because they are concentrated on the optimal fulfilment of only one objective The need to account for multiple goals was observed relatively early Hoffman 1955 while describing what seem to be the principal areas in linear programming where new ideas and new methods are needed gives an example with conflicting goals In this problem the assignment of relative weights is a great problem for the planning staff and is probably not the province of the mathematician engaged in solving this problem These remarks were true precursors of later developments Nevertheless the need for methods dealing with multiple goals was not widely recognized until much later Editor & Publisher, 1925 The fourth estate NBS Special Publication, 1968 Business Innovation with New ICT in the Asia-Pacific: Case Studies Michitaka Kosaka, Jie Wu, Ke Xing, Shiyong Zhang, 2020-09-09 This book clarifies the direction of business innovation using new ICT such as the Internet of things IoT artificial intelligence AI smartphones and cloud computing through a series of case studies on successful trials and advanced businesses in the Asia Pacific where many industry sectors have been growing successfully in the 21st century ICT has been playing an important role in value creation for customers and in profit generation for providers contributing to various service innovation and business innovation Now digitalization using IoT and AI provides solutions to address various issues in the human society which is transforming services and businesses in the 21st century What is the direction of the business innovation using new ICT is a highly concerned question for business researchers and practitioners Aiming to answer the question this book conducts a number of case studies in the Asia Pacific region including the Mainland China Taiwan Japan Malaysia Vietnam as well as Australia Among the studies there are 4 cases from ICT providers 4 cases from traditional and services and 6 cases from new ICT applications and businesses Each case analyzes social needs and human desires new value created roles of new technologies processes and difficulties in developing new businesses the relationship among customers providers and stakeholders value chain co creation and optimization factors of success and business models Finally the direction of business innovation with new ICT in the Asia Pacific is suggested by summarizing the findings from the case studies through the lens of the theoretical analysis in service science Using XML Schema David Gulbrandsen, 2002 An informative guide that starts with an explanation of Schema basics why they were created their advantages and an overview
