Judging Extreme Weather Randy Cerveny, 2024-02-29 Written by the World Meteorological Organization WMO Rapporteur of Weather and Climate Extremes

this book addresses the reality of extreme weather how it occurs how we measure it and what it means for our future Weather affects everybody and with the increasing impact of climate change and the prevalence of storms droughts and floods it is clear that we are affecting all aspects of weather Consequently people love to talk about weather complain about it argue about it and be intrigued by it Twenty four seven coverage of the weather however has helped foster a tendency for marked overstatement the creation of misconceptions exaggerations and frankly even outright lies Leading expert in weather and climate Randy Cerveny draws on his extensive experience with the WMO and personal research to give the reader a behind the scenes look at how weather and climate extremes are recorded and defined He unpacks the science behind these extremes through a number of specific WMO investigations that span a diverse range of countries and weather events including lightning rain hurricanes and tornadoes Cerveny balances these factual accounts with playful interludes that detail bizarre and intriguing weather related stories and anecdotes This compelling book is a must read for all those interested in the science behind extreme weather Knowledge Exchange Quick Takes featuring Professor Randall Cerveny to discuss Weather Extremes youtube com

Extreme Weather and Global Media Julia Leyda, Diane Negra, 2015-06-05 In the two decades bracketing the turn of the millennium large scale weather disasters have been inevitably constructed as media events As such they challenge the meaning of concepts such as identity and citizenship for both locally affected populations and widespread spectator communities This timely collection pinpoints the features of an often overlooked yet rapidly expanding category of global media and analyzes both its forms and functions Specifically contributors argue that the intense promotion and consumption of extreme weather events takes up the slack for the public conversations society is not having about the environment and the feeling of powerlessness that accompanies the realization that anthropogenic climate change has now reached a point of no return Incorporating a range of case studies of extreme weather mediation in India the UK Germany Sweden the US and Japan and exploring recent and ongoing disasters such as Superstorm Sandy the Fukushima nuclear crisis flooding in Germany and heat waves in the UK Extreme Weather and Global Media generates valuable inquiry into the representational and social characteristics of the new culture of extreme weather
