Bros,1911 Postopera: Reinventing the Voice-Body Jelena Novak,2016-03-09 Both in opera studies and in most operatic works the singing body is often taken for granted In Postopera Reinventing the Voice Body Jelena Novak reintroduces an awareness of the physicality of the singing body to opera studies Arguing that the voice body relationship itself is a producer of meaning she furthermore posits this relationship as one of the major driving forces in recent opera She takes as her focus six contemporary operas La Belle et la Bête Philip Glass Writing to Vermeer Louis Andriessen Peter Greenaway Three Tales Steve Reich Beryl Korot One Michel van der Aa Homeland Laurie Anderson and La Commedia Louis Andriessen Hal Hartley which she terms postoperas These pieces are sites for creative exploration where the boundaries of the opera world are stretched Central to this is the impact of new media a de synchronization between image and sound or a redefinition of body voice gender relationships Novak dissects the singing body as a set of rules protocols effects and strategies That dissection shows how the singing body acts within the world of opera what interventions it makes and how it constitutes opera s meanings

Jack and Three Jills Francis Charles Philips,1888 Altering Party Systems Simon Hug,2010-05-06 New political parties have regularly appeared in developed democracies around the world In some countries issues focusing on the environment immigration economic decline and regional concerns have been brought to the forefront by new political parties In other countries these issues have been addressed by established parties and new issue driven parties have failed to form Most current research is unable to explain why under certain circumstances new issues or neglected old ones lead to the formation of new parties Based on a novel theoretical framework this study demonstrates the crucial interplay between established parties and possible newcomers to explain the emergence of new political parties Deriving stable hypotheses from a simple theoretical model the book proceeds to a study of party formation in twenty two developed democracies New or neglected issues still appear as a driving force in explaining the emergence of new parties but their effect is partially mediated by institutional factors such as access to the ballot public support for parties and the electoral system The hypotheses in part support existing theoretical work but in part present new insights The theoretical model also pinpoints problems of research design that are hardly addressed in the comparative literature on new political parties These insights from the theoretical model lead to empirical tests that improve on those employed in the literature and allow for a much enhanced understanding of the formation and the success of new parties Simon Hug is Lecturer in Political Science University of Geneva
