Visual Surveillance Proceedings:

Video Surveillance Weiyao Lin, 2011-02-03 This book presents the latest achievements and developments in the field of video surveillance. The chapters selected for this book comprise a cross section of topics that reflect a variety of perspectives and disciplinary backgrounds. Besides the introduction of new achievements in video surveillance, this book also presents some good overviews of the state of the art technologies as well as some interesting advanced topics related to video surveillance. Summing up the wide range of issues presented in the book, it can be addressed to a quite broad audience including both academic researchers and practitioners in halls of industries interested in scheduling theory and its applications. I believe this book can provide a clear picture of the current research status in the area of video surveillance and can also encourage the development of new achievements in this field. *Proceedings of the ACM ... Distributed Data Fusion for Network-Centric Operations David Hall, Chee-Yee Chong, James Llinas, Martin Liggins II, 2017-12-19 With the recent proliferation of service oriented architectures SOA, cloud computing technologies and distributed interconnected systems, distributed fusion is taking on a larger role in a variety of applications from environmental monitoring and crisis management to intelligent buildings and defense. Drawing on the work of leading experts around the world, Distributed Data Fusion for Network Centric Operations examines the state of the art of data fusion in a distributed sensing, communications and computing environment. Get Insight into Designing and Implementing Data Fusion in a Distributed Network Addressing the entirety of information fusion, the contributors cover everything from signal and image processing through estimation to situation awareness. In particular, the work offers a timely look at the issues and solutions involving fusion within a distributed network enterprise. These include critical design problems such as how to maintain a pedigree of agents or nodes that receive information, provide their contribution to the dataset and pass to other network components. The book also tackles dynamic data sharing within a network centric enterprise, distributed fusion effects on state estimation, graph theoretic methods to optimize fusion performance, human engineering factors and computer ontologies for higher levels of situation assessment. A comprehensive introduction to this emerging field and its challenges, the book explores how data fusion can be used within grid distributed and cloud computing architectures. Bringing together both theoretical and applied research perspectives, this is a valuable reference for fusion researchers and practitioners. It offers guidance and insight for those working on the complex issues of designing and implementing distributed decentralized information fusion. Proceedings IEEE Computer Society, 2000.
