Gearing Up and Getting There Brian K. Houghton, 2004 This dissertation identifies policies and organizational options at the local level that could save lives and reduce injury likely to occur from an act of chemical terrorism It seeks out low cost ways to improve the current performance level in responding to chemical terrorism using Los Angeles as a case study The dissertation attempts to determine the level of risk of chemical terrorism in Los Angeles and identify the anticipated magnitude for which emergency responders and decisionmakers should plan Then it considers current capability and performance levels in chemical terrorism response and determines a performance goal for response to the planning magnitude Through modeling and simulation the dissertation presents low cost options in equipment training organization and doctrine that could improve the response to a chemical terrorist event Finally the dissertation examines these options in terms of budget considerations in Los Angeles The dissertation s findings point to decentralizing counter chemical terrorism equipment throughout the Los Angeles metropolitan area reformulating those doctrinal policies that may inadvertently slow the mitigation process establishing low cost training methods to enhance the specialized knowledge needed to respond effectively putting polices in place to accelerate the decontamination process and focusing on an all hazards approach to preparedness

Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1999 Treating Weapons Proliferation David Santoro, 2010-02-15 Treating Weapons Proliferation is a chilling exploration of the dynamics of weapons proliferation and nonproliferation Through an analogy with the disease of cancer the book walks the reader through the history of the phenomenon its growing complexities and changing dimensions its causes and consequences and the various policy responses currently available to address it Taking stock of the nature and challenges of such responses the book shows that there is no all encompassing cure for weapons proliferation at the present time only treatments of relative and contextual effectiveness Simply put weapons proliferation like cancer has no single cure but it is a condition that can often be treated sometimes successfully
