Virtual Light:

Stage Lighting Richard E. Dunham, 2015-10-30 The book's organization follows a layered approach that builds on basic principles Light as a Medium Part 1 Tools of a Lighting Designer Part 2 Design Fundamentals Part 3 and Lighting Applications Part 4 This presents students with a practical and logical sequence when learning basic concepts The full spectrum of the lighting design process is presented in detail giving students an example of how one might develop a lighting design from script analysis through concept and plot development and all the way to an opening This detailed process with a step by step design approach gives students a plan to work from which they can later modify as they mature and gain confidence as designers The text contains a more comprehensive discussion of basic technology light as a physical phenomena and methodology of designs than is found in most introductory texts bridging the gap between introductory and advanced lighting courses The text will appeal to theatrical designers who want to venture into areas of lighting like architectural or virtual lighting design while at the same time gaining a solid grounding in the fundamentals of lighting design Lighting Design will also benefit illuminating engineers who want to move away from mere computational approaches in lighting and on to explore techniques along the design approaches of theatrical lighting design The final 9 chapters cover many specialty areas of lighting design highlighting the unique and shared qualities that exist between the different aspects of these elements Discussions involve traditional entertainment areas like theatre as well as lesser known facets of the industry including film video landscape lighting retail museum lighting virtual lighting concert spectacle performances and architectural lighting Models of design tasks demonstrate the actual use and development of plots sections schedules photometrics tables and cut sheets rather than simply talking about what they are This hands on approach provides students with a firm understanding of how to actually use these tools and processes

Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep? Seo-Young Chu,2011-01-15 In culture and scholarship science fictional worlds are perceived as unrealistic and altogether imaginary Seo Young Chu offers a bold challenge to this perception of the genre arguing instead that science fiction is a form of high intensity realism capable of representing non imaginary objects that elude more traditional realist modes of representation Powered by lyric forces that allow it to transcend the dichotomy between the literal and the figurative science fiction has the capacity to accommodate objects of representation that are themselves neither entirely figurative nor entirely literal in nature Chu explores the globalized world cyberspace war trauma the Korean concept of han and the rights of robots all as referents for which she locates science fictional representations in poems novels music films visual pieces and other works ranging within and without previous demarcations of the science fiction genre In showing the divide between realism and science fiction to be illusory Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep sheds new light on the value of science fiction as an aesthetic and philosophical resource one that matters more and more as our everyday realities grow increasingly resistant to straightforward representation

Computer Vision - ECCV 2002 Anders Heyden,Gunnar Sparr,Mads Nielsen,Peters Johansen,2003-08-02 Premiering in 1990 in Antibes France the European Conference on Computer Vision ECCV has been held biennially at venues all around Europe These conferences have been very successful making ECCV a major event to the computer vision community ECCV 2002 was the seventh in the series The privilege of organizing it was shared by three universities The IT University of Copenhagen the University of Copenhagen and Lund University with the conference venue in Copenhagen These universities lie geographically close in the vivid Oresund region which lies partly in Denmark and partly in Sweden with the newly built bridge opened summer 2000 crossing the sound that formerly divided the countries We are very happy to report that this year's conference attracted more papers than ever before with around 600 submissions. Still together with the conference board we decided to keep the tradition of holding ECCV as a single track conference. Each paper was anonymously refereed by three different reviewers. For the first time for ECCV a system with area chairs was used. These met with the program chairs in Lund for two days in February 2002 to select what became 45 oral presentations and 181 posters. Also at this meeting the selection was made without knowledge of the authors' identity. General and Practical Optics Lionel Laurance, 1920
