The Sanctification Of Work:

Working well, working for love Javier López Díaz, Millions of people go to work each day some unhappily if they don't like what they're doing or it doesn't interest them others only concerned about the pay they will receive and the financial rewards while others are an example of what Hannah Arendt calls the animal laborans workers who have no other objective or aim than the very work that life has placed before them and which they carry out by natural inclination or by inertia At a higher level is the figure of the homo faber the person who works with a wider view with the aim of making a business or a project a success sometimes seeking personal affirmation but often with the noble aspiration of serving others and serving society as a whole Christians ought to be in this last category and even higher If they really are Christians they will not see themselves as slaves or as paid workers but as children of God for whom work is a vocation and a divine mission to be carried out for love and with love Work is man's vocation the place for his development as a child of God Further it is the matter of his sanctification and the fulfillment of his apostolic mission Hence the Christian should not be afraid of effort or tiredness but should embrace them with joy a joy that has its roots in the shape of the cross The last sentence comes from St Josemaría Escrivá the saint who taught us to sanctify our work turning it into nothing less than the work of God The pages of this book are inspired by his message or rather they are inspired by the message of the Gospel since St Josemaría did nothing other than to teach us the words and life of Jesus above all in his years spent in Nazareth working with St Joseph from whom he learnt to work as an artisan and with Our Lady who served him with her work in the home

José Luis Illanes, José Luis Illanes Maestre, 2003 The Sanctification of Work by Fr José Luis Illanes delves into the theological wellsprings of our faith offering a broad and wide ranging exploration of how to find God in your most ordinary daily pursuits Fr Illanes considers three major topics work and holiness evaluating work and Opus Dei and lay spirituality He concludes this enlightening study by sketching out a theology of work Brightly written and all inclusive this book gives you a complete grasp of what it means to find God in ordinary life

All You who Labor Stefan Wyszyński, 1995 Learn how to turn your work into a tool for personal growth in holiness Develop inner peace even amidst the din of kids and phones meetings and machines This book will help you change your work from a curse into a blessing Practical readable and delightful

The Sanctification Connection Keith Kettenring, 2007-10-16 This work focuses on progressive sanctification as a divine and human undertaking that provides a motivational setting for the transformation of an individual's life In Christianity sanctification occurs when a person is set apart by God to carry out his will Progressive sanctification is the aspect of sanctification that describes the process of spiritual growth Dr Keith Kettenring's research suggests that believers participate in this process with God in sanctificational synergism Human participation is recognized through an examination of free will and a study of components that contribute to belief and character formation This participation also includes the evaluation of one's capabilities and one's context for spiritual growth The integration of these concepts provides a compatible and useful matrix for a more comprehensive understanding of sanctificational growth The study of the components of human participation is also applied to the believer s personal strategy for sanctificational growth and the church s strategy to aid sanctificational growth through worship and small groups

Working and Caring for Creation Emilio

Chuvieco,2026-02-05 This book presents an innovative approach that connects ecotheology and theology of work It expands on the concept of Christian materialism proposed by Saint Josemar a Escriv 1902 1975 to overcome dualisms that ignore the spiritual value of material realities The author broadens Escriv s vision of sanctifying work and sanctifying oneself in work and sanctifying others through work to the sanctification of the natural world Escriv s vocational reading of Genesis 2 15 grounds the relevance of work for finding God in everyday realities but also establishes a clear connection between work and creation care Following this notion the book looks to extend Escriv s ideas on the sanctification of work analogically to the sanctification of the natural world It constructs a theological framework that proposes an earthcaring theology based on the ideas of environmental moral empathy ecological conversion and priest of creation An additional Trinitarian framework is developed along these lines that proposes a new type of work that is co creative co redemptive and co sanctifying following the ad extra attributes of the Father the Son and the Holy Spirit in their providential care for creation The volume is particularly relevant to scholars of theology with an interest in both work and the environment

The Doctrine of Salvation in the

First Letter of Peter Martin Williams,2011-10-13 The prevalence of salvation language in the first letter of Peter has often been acknowledged though rarely investigated in depth In this book Martin Williams presents an account exploring the concept of salvation in this theologically rich letter He brings together the disciplines of hermeneutics New Testament studies and systematic and historical theology in order to explore the language of salvation which resonates within the text The book also elaborates on a methodological level the segregation which has arisen between biblical studies and theological studies In doing this Williams identifies a basis for how there can be interaction between these two different viewpoints This book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in the exegesis and theology of 1 Peter the doctrine of salvation and biblical interpretation
