The Neutron and the Bomb: A Biography of Sir James

Chadwick Andrew Brown, 2019-08-15 James Chadwick 1891 1974 came from a humble background his father was a cotton spinner He was accepted in the physics department of Sir Ernest Rutherford at Manchester University in 1908 on a scholarship and soon started publishing new findings about radioactivity This led to a traveling scholarship to Berlin where he made the important discovery of the continuous spectrum of particles When the World War I broke out Chadwick was interned by the Germans as an enemy alien for the next four years but continued experiments in the prison camp On his return to England in broken health Rutherford invited Chadwick to join the Cavendish Laboratory in Cambridge where he became Rutherford s deputy and oversaw much groundbreaking physics research over the next 15 years Chadwick concentrated on finding evidence for the neutron an uncharged nuclear particle whose existence was first proposed by Rutherford in 1920 Having noticed anomalous results from the Curie laboratory in Paris in 1932 Chadwick used simple bench top apparatus to convince himself after weeks of intense observations that he had definite evidence for the existence of the neutron The Nobel Prize for physics followed in 1935 that year he moved to Liverpool University to head his own department At the outbreak of World War II the feasibility of atomic bombs of unprecedented explosive power was already being discussed Chadwick drafted the British MAUD committee s historic reports in the summer of 1941 which concluded that atomic bombs were indeed feasible with sufficient industrial capacity In wartime Britain this was impossible but in 1943 Chadwick moved to the US as head of the British scientists working on the Manhattan Project He formed an unlikely alliance with its leader General Leslie Groves and became an adroit scientist diplomat Witnessing the first explosion of a plutonium fueled device at the Trinity Test shattered him Chadwick believed that dropping atomic bombs on Japanese cities was justified but the development of nuclear weapons as an unintended consequence of his discovery of the neutron caused him deep personal anguish Until this excellent book by Andrew Brown Chadwick has remained the most shadowy of the atomic scientists who for better or worse gave the human species mastery over nuclear energy Nigel Calder New Scientist Andrew Brown s biography beautifully reveals Chadwick s scientific diplomatic and personal achievements Roger H Stuewer Physics Today I can warmly recommend this book to all interested in the life of a remarkable scientist who played a crucial role in a formative period of the modern world Hermann Bondi Times Higher Education Supplement This is the biography of a physicist who made one of the most important discoveries in nuclear physics but retained to his old age the shyness of a young lad Andrew Brown takes us through Chadwick s life as an adventure I found it a very good read Hans Bethe American Journal of Physics The tale of so sterling a character even when told as well as in this book may be a little short on light moments but any reader interested in the evolution of physics from an academic passion to a leading role on the world stage will find it a fascinating story and a worthy tribute to a great scientist Brian Pippard Nature makes absorbing reading more than the life story of a remarkable man unfolds the tremendous transformation that science underwent in the 20th century Joseph Rotblat avidly researched and artfully written This biography blends elegantly direct scientific descriptions with often witty episodes and character summaries William Lanouette Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists Nuclear Physics SN Ghoshal,1997 In This edition of the book only minor changes have been made in some chapters In the chapter on Nuclear Models Ch IX the discussions on the individual particle model has been shortened to some extent and the relevant reference have been added where the readers can get the details The Homing Pigeon, and National Homing Union Members' Gazette ,1928 Cycle and Automobile Trade Journal ,1904 English Patents of Inventions, Specifications ,1868 Flight ,1930 Constructioneer ,1957 The American Journal of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children ,1886 The Cornell Veterinarian ,1918 The American Stationer ,1906 Motor Age ,1909 Illustrated London News ,1914 America's Textile Reporter ,1904 Open Exhaust ,1915 Patents for Inventions.
