Women's Bible Studies Ruth Spradley, 1988 Ruth Anne Wilcox, 1985-05 Without Destroying Ourselves John A. Goodwin, 2022-03 Without Destroying Ourselves is an intellectual history of Native activism seeking greater access to and control of higher education in the twentieth century John A Goodwin traces themes of Henry Roe Cloud s Ho Chunk vision for Native intellectual leadership and empowerment in the early 1900s to the later missions of tribal colleges and universities TCUs and education based self determination movements of the 1960s onward Vital to Cloud s work was the idea of how to build from Native identity and adapt without destroying that identity As the central themes of the movement for Native control in higher education developed over the course of several decades a variety of Native activists carried Cloud s

vision forward Goodwin explores how Elizabeth Bender Cloud Ojibwe D Arcy McNickle Salish Kootenai Jack Forbes Powhatan Renap Delaware Lenape and others built on and contributed to this common thread of Native intellectual activism Goodwin demonstrates that Native activism for self determination was never snuffed out by the swing of the federal government s pendulum away from tribal governance and toward termination Moreover efforts for Native control in education remained a vital aspect of that activism Without Destroying Ourselves documents this period through the full accreditation of TCUs in the late 1970s and reinforces TCUs continuing relevance in confronting the unique needs and challenges of Native communities today [Studies from the Division of Laboratories and Research, New York State Dept. of Health New York \(State\). Fisher,2008-11-06 Today more than 75 percent of pharmaceutical drug trials in the United States are being conducted in the private sector Once the sole province of academic researchers these important studies are now being outsourced to non academic physicians According to Jill A Fisher this major change in the way medical research is performed is the outcome of two problems in U S health care decreasing revenue for physicians and decreasing access to treatment for patients As physicians report diminishing income due to restrictive relationships with insurers increasing malpractice insurance premiums and inflated overhead costs to operate private practices they are attracted to pharmaceutical contract research for its lucrative return Clinical trials also provide limited medical access to individuals who have no or inadequate health insurance because they offer free doctors visits diagnostic tests and medications to participants Focusing on the professional roles of those involved as well as key research practices Fisher assesses the risks and advantages for physicians and patients alike when pharmaceutical drug studies are used as an alternative to standard medical care A volume in the Critical Issues in Health and Medicine series edited by Rima D Apple and Janet Golden Old
