Thinking Tools For Kids

Guillaume Favre

Thinking Tools For Kids:

Thinking Tools for Kids Barbara A. Cleary, Sally J. Duncan, 1999-01-01 Perhaps the first book of its kind written especially for young people Thinking Tools for Kids describes everyday challenges grade school kids encounter which can be solved by a variety of quality tools Each chapter starts out with a story that presents a problem students may come across the authors then explain which tools can be used to overcome these problems and give examples of how to apply these tools to other problems as well the many illustrations aid in the students understanding of the tools they are using while the helpful glossary aids the parents and teachers At the end of each chapter the authors give a home connection which encourages kids to take what they have learned and apply it to problems at home

Thinking Tools for Young Readers and Writers

Carol Booth Olson, Angie Balias, Emily McCourtney, Mary Widtmann, 2018 In her new book bestselling author and professional developer Carol Booth Olson and colleagues show teachers how to help young readers and writers construct meaning from and with texts This practical resource offers a rich array of research based teaching strategies activities and extended lessons focused on the thinking tools employed by experienced readers and writers It shows teachers how to draw on the natural connections between reading and writing and how cognitive strategies can be embedded into the teaching of narrative informational and argumentative texts Including artifacts and written work produced by students across the grade levels the authors connect the cognitive and affective domains for full student engagement This book seamlessly bridges the gap from research to everyday practice You get an extremely well organized set of overarching instructional principles that are right for our era and brought to life through well explained instructional guides and classroom activities From the Foreword by Judith Langer University at Albany SUNY I have always admired Carol Booth Olson s work with secondary students and teachers She now applies those essential principles and practices to elementary and middle school students Bravo P David Pearson professor emeritus University of California Berkeley

Kutscher, 2014-03-21 Now fully updated to include the new DSM 5 diagnostic categories this is a concise guide to the range of often co existing neuro behavioral disorders in children from ADHD OCD and anxiety to autism spectrum disorders nonverbal learning disabilities Tourette s sensory integration problems and executive dysfunction

Teach Your Kids to Think! Maria Chesley Fisk, 2010-03 Teach Your Kids to Think is designed to help parents teach their children how to think wisely and well during the time they already spend together Using the latest research on intelligence and how we think author Maria Chesley Fisk Ph D has created a series of easy to use fun tools that can be used whenever parents are with their 4 to 12 year old kids The tools are divided into sections that correspond to different types of thinking She created her thinking puzzle shown here and used throughout the book to represent how interrelated these thinking skills are and how they all work together to help our kids develop their multiple intelligences Philosophical Inquiry with Children Gilbert Burgh, Simone Thornton, 2018-12-07 Philosophy in schools in Australia dates back to the 1980s and is rooted in the Philosophy for Children curriculum and pedagogy Seeing potential for educational change Australian advocates were quick to develop new classroom resources and innovative programs that have proved influential in educational practice throughout Australia and internationally Behind their contributions lie key philosophical and educational discussions and controversies which have shaped attempts to introduce philosophy in schools and embed it in state and national curricula Drawing together a wide range of eminent scholars and practitioners in the field of educational philosophy this anthology the first of its kind provides not only a historical narrative but an opportunity to reflect on the insights and experiences of the authors that have made history The collection is divided into three parts The overarching theme of Part I is the early years of Philosophy for Children in Australia and how they informed the course that the philosophy in schools movement would take Part II focuses on the events and debates surrounding the development and production of new materials including arguments for and against the suitability of the original Philosophy for Children curriculum In Part III key developments relating to teaching philosophy in schools are analysed This collection of diverse views critical appraisals and different perspectives of historical currents is intended to stimulate thought provoking questions about theory and practice and to increase general awareness both nationally and internationally of the maturation of philosophy in schools in Australia It is also intended to encourage readers to identify emerging ideas and develop strategies for their implementation

Raising Black Students' Achievement Through Culturally Responsive Teaching Johnnie McKinley, 2011-03-30 In this book Johnnie McKinley presents the results of her in depth study of a group of teachers in grades 3 thru 8 who managed to radically narrow the achievement gap between their black and white students by using a set of culturally responsive strategies in their classrooms McKinley uses the educators own words and illustrative virtual walkthroughs of lessons in action to examine these strategies in detail In addition the book includes An overview of the research literature on effective responses to the achievement gap Instructions for conducting classroom walkthroughs including a series of feedback forms that teachers can use to conduct walkthroughs in their schools and A comprehensive guide to the author's Teaming for Culturally Responsive Classrooms TCRC model an innovative multistep framework for assessing the cultural responsiveness of teaching strategies in schools Educators have been struggling for decades to remedy the disparity in academic outcomes between black and white students This book shows how one remarkable group of teachers harnessed the power of culturally responsive teaching to do just that By following the path outlined in Raising Black Students Achievement Through Culturally Responsive Teaching you too can help your black students to become engaged self confident and successful learners Tips and Tools for Getting Thru to Kids Phillip Mountrose, 1999 25 dynamic suggestions that teach parents and educators about themselves as well as their children This easy to read book will help raise adults as well as children s emotional intelligence It will show you how to resolve anger improve honesty and build trust Learn the three keys to successful listening Discover powerful ways to discipline that to teach children to discipline themselves A unique resource that you will refer to again and again Beyond Answers Michael Flynn, Mike Flynn, 2016-11-23 Shares ideas on how best to implement the Standards for Mathematical Practice in K 2 classrooms The Journal for Quality and Participation ,2008 Rethinking Disability and Mathematics Rachel Lambert, 2024-04-15 Every child has a right to make sense of math and to use math to make sense of their worlds Despite their gifts students with disabilities are often viewed from a deficit standpoint in mathematics classrooms These students are often conceptualized as needing to be fixed or remediated Rethinking Disability and Mathematics argues that mathematics should be a transformative space for these students a place where they can discover their power and potential and be appreciated for their many strengths Author Rachel Lambert introduces Universal Design for Learning for Math UDL Math a way to design math classrooms that empowers disabled and neurodiverse students to engage in mathematics in ways that lead to meaningful and joyful math learning The book showcases how UDL Math can open up mathematics classrooms so that they provide access to meaningful understanding and an identity as a math learner to a wider range of students Weaved throughout the book are the voices of neurodiverse learners telling their own stories of math learning Through stories of real teachers recognizing the barriers in their own math classrooms and redesigning to increase access the book Reframes students with disabilities from a deficit to an asset perspective paving the way for trusting their mathematical thinking Offers equitable math instruction for all learners including those with disabilities neurodiverse students and or multilingual learners Applies UDL to the math classroom providing practical tips and techniques to support students cognitive affective and strategic development Immerses readers in math classrooms where all students are engaged in meaningful mathematics from special education day classes to inclusive general education classrooms from grades K 8 Integrates research on mathematical learning including critical math content such as developing number sense and place value fluency with math facts and operations and understanding fractions and algebraic thinking Explores critical issues such as writing IEP goals in math This book is designed for all math educators both those trained as general education teachers and those trained as special education teachers The UDL Math approach is adapted to work for all learners because everyone varies in how they perceive the world and in how they approach mathematical problem solving When we rethink mathematics to include multiple ways of being a math learner we make math accessible and engaging for a wider group of learners
