Strategy After Deterrence Stephen J. Cimbala, 1991-01-30 The profound political changes in the USSR and Eastern Europe during 1989 have forced the United States and its Western European allies to reevaluate both their long held military strategy of nuclear deterrence and the traditional role of NATO in European affairs In this volume Stephen Cimbala considers the ways in which American military priorities will have to change now that the tangible threat to Europe has been removed exploring the options available to America and NATO given the new political and economic realities in Europe and the Soviet Union Drawing upon a rich literature of Soviet and American defense strategy Cimbala examines the structure and effectiveness of deterrence as a military strategy the relationship between conventional and nuclear weapons the likely course of future conflicts and alternative military strategies Following an introductory chapter which defines the concepts of deterrence and dissuasion and offers an overview of the changing character of European politics Cimbala reviews the political context for the development of military strategy in Europe Subsequent chapters consider the relationship between military stability and the likelihood of winning wars in their initial stages analyze the issue of deterrence during war discuss the potential for atypical wars in the future and investigate the linkages between deception and deterrence A separate chapter addresses the attempt to substitute non nuclear dissuasion for nuclear deterrence in the form of anti nuclear strategic defenses which could defeat nuclear offenses In the final chapter Cimbala summarizes his conclusions and makes some additional observations about the implications of our new view of NATO and deterrence Students of international relations foreign policy and military studies will find Cimbala s work enlightening and provocative reading

Strategic Thinking, Deterrence and the US Ballistic Missile Defense Project Reuben Steff, 2016-04-01 A systematic critical survey of American strategic thinking and the strategic culture in which it is formed In particular this book seeks to interrogate the theory and strategy of nuclear deterrence and its relationship to the concept of missile defence Drawing widely on the theoretical literature in international relations and strategic studies it identifies the key groups that have competed over America s nuclear policy post 1945 and examines how the concept of missile defence went through a process of gestation and intellectual contestation leading to its eventual legitimization in the late 1990s Steff sheds light on the individuals groups institutions and processes that led to the decision by the Bush administration to deploy a national missile defence shield Additionally Steff systematically examines the impact deployment had on the calculations of Russia and China In the process he explains that their reactions under the Bush administration have continued into the Obama era revealing that a new great power security dilemma has broken out This Steff shows has led to a decline in great power relations as a consequence

Future of Strategic Deterrence Christoph Bertram,1981-06-18 Conventional Coercion Across the Spectrum of Operations David E. Johnson,Karl P. Mueller,William H. Taft (V.),2002 The raison d tre for any military is to deter an adversary from acting inimically to a nation s interests or if deterrence fails to coerce him into ceasing the actions After defining terms and reviewing the literature on coercion this report looks at the utility of the military as a coercive instrument The authors analyze cases that provide insights into conventional coercion They conclude by stressing the unchanged nature of coercion and that only a thorough understanding of our adversaries and of our own will and capabilities will yield a successful coercive strategy Social Psychological Process And Effects On The Law Colleen M. Howard Steiner,1991 Steiner analyzes how and why Brodie s understanding of weapons of unparalleled explosive force led him to posit the need for revolutionary strategic thinking in broadminded analytic method and in the focus upon cities as nuclear targets He shows the tremendous effect Brodie s work had on the intellectual climate in which policy is determined particularly in his frequent combatting of conventional wisdom American Defense Policy Peter L. Johnston Conover,1977 Challenges to Deterrence Stephen J. Cimbala,1987-09-19 Challenge to Deterrence is based on a panel discussion from the 1985 American Political Science Association meeting in New Orleans In this comprehensive study eminent scholars address all aspects of U S deterrence policy from both technical and policy aspects Along with discussions on technology currently available to the U S and how it can be used more effectively contributors speculate on Soviet strategic planning and how the U S can get allies such as Japan and Israel more involved in deterrence activity Deep Cuts and the Future of Nuclear Deterrence Aspen Strategy Group (U.S.),1989 This volume opens with an analysis of public opinion data which reveals that several common beliefs about public attitudes toward defense are myths The public has not repudiated nuclear deterrence public attitudes are quite stable not volatile and public opinion is not contradictory Despite the politicization of nuclear weapons policy this report explains three key elements can be combined to form a national security strategy which could be supported by a consensus of experts and publics among the Western alliance First in terms of nuclear weapons the focus of arms control negotiation should be redirected to enhancing stability at substantially lower numbers In terms of conventional weapons several initiatives should be undertaken Also civilian political leaders should begin a major NATO based study on warning and decision making Furthermore a consensus defense and arms control strategy should include restrictions on anti satellite weapons and SDI This volume is divided into five parts Introduction Stability and Change in Public Opinions about Nuclear Weapons Policy 1945 1987 Four Alternative National Security Futures Lessons Learned from Examining Radical Changes and Building Towards a Consensus Co published with the Aspen Strategy Group The Strategy of Endings Philip Douglas Brick,1990 Nuclear Deterrence--does it Deter? Honoré Marc Catudal,1986 Political Science Abstracts ,1993-08-31 Political Science Abstracts is an annual supplement to the Political Science Government and Public Policy Series of The Universal Reference System which was first published in 1967 All back issues are still available
