Costa,Lawrence F. Lowery,1989 This book presents successful classroom practices for teaching thinking skills with children and adolescents An introduction discusses the basic importance of cognitive processes to academic success and the importance of thinking skills programs for all students Four fundamental concepts that underlie recent changes in curriculum and instructional practices are mentioned the theory of cognitive modifiability the theory of multiple intelligences the faith that intelligence can be taught and the thesis that traditional IQ scores have little to do with success in dealing with problems encountered in daily life The crucial role of the teacher in developing students thinking is then discussed The first chapter focuses on structuring and organizing the classroom for thinking including developing instructional clarity and structuring time and energy The second chapter considers teacher initiated questions and directions that elicit thinking and learning Teacher response behaviors that extend thinking and learning are examined in the third chapter The importance of thought full language in the classroom is stressed in the fourth chapter which covers subtopics such as the linguistic nature of instruction discipline classroom management and probing for specificity Strategies for enhancing metacognition are offered next The sixth chapter provides techniques for teaching a thinking skill or strategy directly and includes a lesson planning strategy and a sample lesson The final chapter examines ways to evaluate student thinking skills The epilogue focuses on the importance of modeling or behaving consistently with our cognitive goals and objectives References accompany each chapter CR Teaching Thinking Across the Curriculum Vincent Ryan Ruggiero,1988 Grade level 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 k p e i s t Techniques for Teaching Thinking Arthur Costa,Lawrence F. applied to teaching across the curriculum at both primary and secondary level drawing on the best practices associated with the teaching thinking creativity and learning to learn movements explaining their success in terms of dialogic theory In particular the book incorporates aspects of a number of thinking skills approaches such as Lipman s Philosophy for Children approach as well as features of contemporary innovations in education such as assessment for learning and the development of creativity Each chapter opens with a vignette to set the scene and continue into a light and popularly written exposition of theory before moving on to a description of practice and concluding with practical guidelines for how to teach for thinking and creativity in schools and classrooms The first six chapters in the book have more of a focus on developing core theoretical themes and the following six chapters in the second half of the book focus more on practice led themes The relationship between theory and practice is treated as flexible and dynamic theory being developed by practice as much as practice implementing theory
