Framework Circular Economy:

Sustainable Products in the Circular Economy Magdalena Wojnarowska, Marek Ćwiklicki, Carlo Ingraio, 2022-04-24 This book explores how the circular economy influences product design in today's business and society. Drawing on contributions from a wide range of expert thinkers, this volume assesses the existing approaches, strategies, and tools which facilitate socially and environmentally responsible production and consumption systems. It then goes on to highlight the ways in which the circular economy conceptual framework could be implemented effectively at both micro-product policy and macro-sustainable consumption levels in order to alter the industrial landscape and increase its interconnectedness with materials and scarce resources. Highlighting the pros and cons of transitioning to this new model, the book also cautions that it will only be made possible via significant behavior change at both industry and consumer levels. Sustainable Products in the Circular Economy will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable manufacturing, sustainable consumption, corporate social responsibility, and business ethics. It will also be relevant to industry professionals whose work dovetails with these areas.

Circular Economy, 2018 In a circular economy, waste generation is minimized and the value of products, materials, and resources is maintained for as long as possible. It is a new economic model that offers tremendous opportunities. It helps save natural resources, combats climate change, makes production, consumption, and waste management more sustainable, and creates green local jobs. To stimulate the transition towards this new model, the European Commission released a circular economy action plan in December 2015. Two years on, one of its last milestones, a framework for monitoring progress, has just been adopted. Tracking progress is not easy as this transition is taking place in many different areas. But the monitoring framework is an important tool showing how the various elements of the circular economy are beginning to mature. It will help citizens and policymakers identify success factors and show where more action is needed. The results will help set new priorities as Europe moves towards its long-term aim: a more circular economy.

The Routledge Handbook of Global Sustainability Education and Thinking for the 21st Century Michele John, 2025-02-20 This Handbook emerges as a pivotal resource in underscoring the important role of sustainability education in catalysing a global shift toward sustainable development. It articulates the need for a profound transformation within institutional leadership and educational frameworks to support the critical global sustainability transition. This Handbook explores sustainability thinking as a critical paradigm shift in confronting the multifaceted challenges of sustainable development. It presents an urgent case for a systemic overhaul in our approach to education in the 21st century, advocating for multidisciplinary education and holistic systems thinking in order to more successfully navigate the complexities of sustainable development. The text discusses the foundational elements of modern sustainability thought and management, including the significance of values, ethics, governance, and the pressing issues of environmental degradation and climate change. It offers an extensive transdisciplinary overview of sustainability discourse, spanning a broad array of perspectives on sustainability management and education. It provides a comprehensive introduction to the language of sustainability and a detailed examination of sustainability issues highlighting their implications for education training and management development It addresses urgent global issues such as decarbonisation resource scarcity population dynamics pollution and land degradation emphasising the crucial role of educational initiatives in helping to mitigate these challenges This seminal work has been developed for a diverse audience including academics policymakers students and educators serving as a valuable tool for those wanting to comprehend complex global sustainability challenges and the paramount importance of education in supporting global sustainability in the 21st century

Circular Economy and System Thinking Framework in Design Mehrafza Mirzazad Barijugh, 2016. The purpose of this thesis is to bring the circular economy framework and system thinking into the process of design thinking. The traditional design process is made up of five steps: 1. Discover a challenge, 2. Interpret the challenge, 3. Create opportunities and ideas, 4. Develop a solution and experiment with it, 5. Evolve the idea. This project is structured upon a methodology generated to apply a circular system framework in design that begins with taking a holistic view of the topic. This methodology is structured into five phases. The first phase is referring to this approach as moving from Macrocosm to Microcosm, in other words, the mapping of the connections and interconnections of the system. The intersections of these cosmos create what I refer to as the main element or the brain for short. Phase 1: The second phase is to deconstruct this brain. Phase 2: and explore the elements within it. The third phase is related with surveying. The fourth phase is defining problems based on the information I found during the past three phases. The last part is the reconstruction of the brain using the circular framework. Phase 5: Abstract.
