God Bless America Karen Stollznow,2014-07-01 God Bless America lifts the veil on strange and unusual religious beliefs and practices in the modern day United States Do Satanists really sacrifice babies Do exorcisms involve swearing and spinning heads Are the Amish allowed to drive cars and use computers Taking a close look at snake handling new age spirituality Santeria spells and satanic rituals this book offers more than mere armchair research taking you to an exorcism and a polygamist compound and allowing you to sit among the beards and bonnets in a Mennonite church and to hear L Ron Hubbard s stories told as sermons during a Scientology service From the Amish to Voodoo the beliefs and practices explored in this book may be unorthodox and often dangerous but they are always fascinating While some of them are dying out and others are gaining popularity with a modern audience all offer insight into the future of religion in the United States and remind that fact is often stranger than fiction

Madams, Trafficking Victims, and Migrants Milena Rizzotti,2026-03-09 This book examines Nigerian women s experiences of migration work and mobility across European borders through a unique problematisation of the boundary between madams and victims Rizzotti brings together the voices of women positioned by humanitarian categories on both sides of the trafficking divide to show how their trajectories are shaped by similar dynamics of debt kinship and constrained mobility The book reframes trafficking as a field of negotiation where agency and constraint coexist within women s strategies of survival It stands as an essential reference for anyone seeking to understand and rethink the gendered and racialised dynamics of trafficking migration and border control Dr Nicola Mai Professor of Criminology University of Leicester UK Despite the extensive research on trafficking from Nigeria to Europe much of the existing knowledge remains victim centred and rooted in the field of social assistance This focus has been crucial in shaping our understanding of the anti trafficking landscape particularly in highlighting which aspects of victims experiences are prioritised by institutions when assessing claims for humanitarian protection However it has also resulted in a narrow perspective largely limited to the narratives of individuals who have been officially recognised as victims Rizzotti s book reconfigures established understandings of trafficking by incorporating the voices of convicted women alongside those of identified victims and key stakeholders Her fieldwork illuminates the ways in which Nigerian women resist and navigate the constraints placed on their social and geographical mobility constraints often reinforced by institutional labels such as trafficker and victim in order to pursue individual and collective migration goals Rizzotti demonstrates that both convicted women and identified victims frequently share similar experiences and aspirations particularly in their efforts to overcome restrictive migration regimes and gendered expectations imposed on them as racialised migrants from the Global South
