Transatlantic Trends in Retailing M. P. Kacker,1985      The Retailing Reader John Dawson,Anne Findlay,Leigh Sparks,2020-07-24 Most of us think we know something about retailing we shop we buy we consume But retailing perhaps more than any other economic sector has been transformed fundamentally over the last thirty years both economically and culturally Featuring work from seminal theorists in the area and charting the development of retailing as an important discipline in its own right this superb volume examines the key themes in contemporary retailing Organized into five sections each of which includes an illuminating editorial overview The Retailing Reader examines consumers and shoppers retail branding and marketing merchandising and buying strategy power and policy international retailing Extensive case studies include an analysis of the British grocery market the strategies embodied by Nike Town stores and the development of retail economies in China and Latin America The Retailing Reader presents a comprehensive overview of this important area of study and is an ideal companion for any student of retailing marketing or business and management      International Retailing ,2005      International Retail Marketing Christopher Moore,Margaret Bruce,Grete Birtwistle,2007-03-30 International Retail Marketing combines a broad thematic overview of the key issues concerning international retail marketing with a series of incisive cases and examples of industry practice from markedly different sectors as fashion food and healthcare The authors provide an accessible and wide ranging outline of the fundamentals of the subject such as trends in retail marketing strategy and logistics and buying and merchandise management within an international perspective Contributions from Europe North America and Asia show the dynamics affecting international retailing through a variety of case Key discussion points are highlighted throughout the text giving a hands on focus      The Internationalisation of Retailing in Asia Sang Chul Choi,John Dawson,Roy Larke,Masao Mukoyama,2004-03-01 European retailers have successfully internationalised their activities in Europe but have been less successful in North America American retailers have been successful in their home market but less so in Europe The major European and American retailers are now entering Asia and competing directly with each other in a substantive way for the first time These Western retailers using modern managerial methods are entering markets typified by more traditional managerial approaches Western managerial cultures and values are interfacing with Asian ones The results of these moves are new stresses for Asian retail structures that bring a new dynamism to Asian retailing The contributions in this book explore the conflicts and benefits that arise as retailing in Asia becomes internationalised The contributions are provided by experts in retail research from across Asia and for the first time in depth analyses are provided of the ways that Western retailers are provoking change in Asia The book results from a seminar held at the University of Marketing and Distribution Sciences Kobe in November 2001 under the auspices of Society for Asian Research in Distribution Scholars from across the region presented research results of their analyses of the New Commerce now appearing in Asia      International Business and Europe in Transition Fred Burton,Mo

Yamin, Stephen Young, 2016-07-27 This volume of the Academy of International Business series looks at International Business in the context of a rapidly changing Europe Leading contributors have come together to present the latest research attempting to answer a number of important questions is the vision of a Single European market realistic what are the barriers to its achievement what are the prospects for Eastern Europe how should firms enter East European markets what does the process of transition imply for corporate policy Retail Branding and Store Loyalty Bettina Berg, 2013-09-07

Marketers and retailers have to understand how to manage different consumer perception levels of retail brands which have a major determining role on store loyalty across different complex contexts Addressing these issues Bettina Berg analyzes first whether corporate reputation and retail store equity have a reciprocal relationship in determining store loyalty Second she evaluates whether retail brand equity or store accessibility provides a greater contribution to store loyalty across different local competitive situations Third she investigates whether perceptions of format specific core attributes differ in their impact on the brand building process in saturated and emerging markets The Globalization of Retailing Neil M. Coe, Neil Wrigley, 2009

This path breaking collection brings together seminal contributions from the burgeoning multidisciplinary literature on the globalisation of retailing The Retailing Industry: 1945-Retail revolutions John Benson, Gareth Shaw, 1999

International Retailing Peter J. McGoldrick, Gary Davies, 1995 International Retailing the first book to address seriously the recent trends in retailer internationalism provides a truly international review of the driving forces behind internationalism Particular attention is paid to the European market The Prospects of American Industrial Recovery John E. Ullmann, 1985-06-17

John E Ullmann examines the underlying causes of the impending American economic blight Specifically he identifies the arms race as preempting technical talent and capital resources to the degree that it impairs the rest of the economy According to Ullmann it is the confluence of related misunderstandings and rationalizations about military spending that have inhibited a proper response to current economic and technical challenges He demonstrates that solutions lie only in concentrating on direct action and physical realities on industrial redevelopment and technical needs and on the broader issues of the nature of work and its organization Through a discussion of individual industries and their problems Ullmann sets forth a series of proposals for their recovery and renewed progress
