The Makeover Katherine Sender,2012-01-01 Watch this show buy this product you can be a whole new you Makeover television shows repeatedly promise self renewal and the opportunity for reinvention but what do we know about the people who watch them As it turns out surprisingly little The Makeover is the first book to consider the rapid rise of makeover shows from the perspectives of their viewers Katherine Sender argues that this genre of reality television continues a long history of self improvement shaped through contemporary media technological and economic contexts Most people think that reality television viewers are ideological dupes and obliging consumers Sender however finds that they have a much more nuanced and reflexive approach to the shows they watch They are critical of the instruction the consumer plugs and the manipulative editing in the shows At the same time they buy into the shows imperative to construct a reflexive self an inner self that can be seen as if from the outside and must be explored and expressed to others The Makeover intervenes in debates about both reality television and audience research offering the concept of the reflexive self to move these debates forward The

Makeover in Movies Elizabeth A. Ford, Deborah C. Mitchell,2004-04-14 The plots of many films pivot on the moment when a dowdy girl with bad hair ill fitting outdated clothing and thick glasses is changed into an almost unrecognizable glamour girl Makeover scenes such as these are examined beginning with 1942 s Now Voyager The study examines whether the film makeover is voluntary or involuntary whether it is always successful how much screen time it takes up where in the narrative structure it falls and how the scene is actually filmed Films with a Pygmalion theme such as My Fair Lady Vertigo and Shampoo are examined in terms of gender relations whether the man is content with his creation and what sort of woman is the ideal Some films publicity capitalizes on a glamorous star s choice to play an unattractive character as discussed in a chapter examining stars like Bette Davis Meryl Streep and Cameron Diaz Topics also include folk literature s Cinderella tale men as the inspiration for makeovers in teen flicks films like Clueless She s All That and Me Natalie and class repositioning in such movies as Working Girl Pretty Woman and Grease Photographs are presented in a before after format showing the change in the makeover character Management and Administration in Manufacturing Industries ,1925 The
