Once a year, for a rare moment at 7:15 AM EDT on July 8th, 99% of the world's population will be in the Sun. About 6.4 billion people in the daytime, while more than 1.2 billion people experience twilight. How cool is that! Source: earthsky.org

The Lopsided World:

The Lopsided World Barbara Ward,1968-04-01 The Classical World ,1907 Releasing the Commons Ash Amin,Philip Howell,2016-04-28 This book moves beyond seeing the commons in the past tense an entity passed over from the public into the private to reimagine the commons as a process a contest of force a reconstitution and a site of convening practices It highlights new spaces of gathering opening up such as the digital commons and new practices of being in common such as community economies and solidarity networks The commons is seen as a contested domain of the collective and as a changing way of being in common with the balance poised in the tensile play between political economy and social innovation The book focuses on the possibility of recovering a future in which more can be held by the many focusing on three concepts nation and nature as a commons publics and rights and bodies concerning the management of lives and livelihoods Across these three passage points the book finds evidence of a commons under attack but also defended in fragile though promising ways With contributions from leading scholars this thought provoking book will be of great interest to students and scholars in geography environmental studies politics anthropology and cultural studies Entertaining Tucson Across the Decades" Volume 1 Robert E. environments it contributes to historiographies on inequality the UN development international relations theory business in society and neoliberalism Drawing on sources from development economics political science and international relations to UN reports newspaper articles management literature and interviews with contemporary UN experts it investigates how vocabularies of global inequality shifted over time The book finds that from the 1940s onward global economic inequality remained a persistent theme Global egalitarians not only championed equality norms but also concrete instruments especially development redistribution and restructuring while remaining critical of both global economic hierarchies and the belief that markets alone would ensure equality The 1970s marked the high point of efforts to design a global equality regime only to see these hopes dismantled in the early 1980s with the rise of neoliberal globalization By the late 1990s the failure of these policies paved the way for inclusive capitalism a depoliticized approach to inequality Yet global egalitarian ideas endured and the UN continued to produce inequality statistics set global norms and foster international dialogue In the wake of the 2007 2008 crises as inequality debates re emerged with force familiar themes and warnings resurfaced Offering a history of widening gaps and efforts to close them this book tells a story from which we may still learn America ,1928
