This book is part of the refereed 2-volume proceedings of the 9th International Conference on Image Analysis and Processing ICIAP 97 held in Florence, Italy, September 1997. Both volumes together present several keynote contributions and 173 revised papers selected from over 300 submissions. The contributing authors, more than 400 in number, provide a wealth of new results in the areas of image analysis, pattern recognition, and computer vision. Among the basic topics covered are image enhancement, image segmentation, image compression, motion analysis, object recognition, image understanding, and special hardware architectures and systems, etc. Among the application areas covered are biomedical imaging, character recognition, safety and surveillance, object identification, etc.

Third [i.e. Third] World Libraries, 1994 Computing Applications in Molecular Spectroscopy William O. George, Derek Steele, 1995. This book brings together several branches of molecular spectroscopy and a range of applications of modern computer methods, particularly those dependent on data handling and information technology to address problems that have become more accessible through increasing computer power. It follows on from an earlier RSC publication entitled Computer Methods in UV-Visible and IR Spectroscopy published in 1990 and brings the subject up to date. Computing Applications in Molecular Spectroscopy is written by leading experts in the field and provides coherent and progressive coverage of the topic. It fulfills a need for systematic presentation of the facts where the information generally available is highly fragmented and also provides examples of the use of computer power to improve the understanding of basic theory. Interest in interfacing computing and spectroscopy is wide, spanning industry, government, and academia, the world over. Computing Applications in

Molecular Spectroscopy will provide graduates researchers and professionals involved in areas such as applied spectroscopy chemometrics forensic science environmental chemistry and pollution research with a valuable insight into the spectroscopic applications of the latest computer methods
