The Multinationals:

The Multinationals Christopher Tugendhat, 1971 Monograph on the economic implications of the rapid growth of multinational enterprises with particular reference to the USA and Western Europe covers political aspects planning economic relations trade financing mergers foreign investment foreign exchange foreign ownership trade union problems etc and suggests that government policy measures should be taken to accumulate information about those companies which are important to their economies Bibliography pp 226 to 228 references and statistical tables An Introduction to the Multinationals Margaret Allen, Michel Ghertman, trans Christina Laporte, 1984-02-23 Storm Over the Multinationals Raymond Vernon, 1977 Monograph presenting a critical analysis of the situation and image of multinational enterprises investigates their economic and political behaviour both in developed countries and developing countries together with the respective national level goals and considers enterprise strategies in the light of technology and stabilization entropy Bibliography pp 219 to 251 graphs and statistical tables The Multinationals: The View From Europe, Munich: 1975, (report on the Seventh Meeting of the Members of Congress and of the European Parliament, April 1975), September 1975 United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations, 1975 The Multinationals, Their Function and Future, 1975 The Multinational Enterprise Peter J. Buckley, 1989-06-18 These papers provide an integrated treatment of the theory with its applications for industrial sectors regions and international business policy The theory is applied to smaller firms to co operative agreements between firms and to exports in the strategy of large multinational firms The Might of the Multinationals Alexandr Rubner, 1990-07-26 Drawing upon his three decades of experience as a corporate economist including 17 years as a senior economist with Business International Corporation Alex Rubner here offers an incisive study of the multinational corporation as its fortunes have waxed and waned over the years The author traces the evolution of the modern multinational corporation and the popular academic and governmental sentiments associated with it arguing that the transnational corporate entity is far from the all powerful supranational giant many have envisioned In contrast Rubner shows the modern multinational is a fragile strife ridden business operation often with significantly lower profit margins than smaller local or regional firms Written for both international business scholars and lay readers interested in business matters The Might of the Multinationals provides a compelling look at the real and imagined power of the world s largest and most well known corporations Following an introductory chapter which sets the stage for the discussions that follow the author addresses the concepts of the multinational company as formulated by idealistic advocates and vehement adversaries Rubner shows that populist perceptions of the power of multinationals are of relatively recent vintage and derive from a variety of sources including religious and trade union leaders politicians businessmen and academic theorists The second section explores the actual day to day realities that govern the operation of multinationals and examines such issues as the inhospitability of host countries the inability of large bureaucratic organizations to react quickly to changing conditions and the hypersensitivity of multinationals Finally Rubner looks to the future evaluating the revised strategies of Western multinationals regarding overseas investments He concludes that the power of the major transnationals is diminishing along with the legends that gave birth to that perception The Geography of the Multinationals Michael Taylor,N. J. Thrift,2012 The Multinational Enterprise Peter J. Buckley,2014-01-14 These papers provide an integrated treatment of the theory with its applications for industrial sectors regions and international business policy The theory is applied to smaller firms to co operative agreements between firms and to exports in the strategy of large multinational firms
