Lawrence Hogue,2012-02-01 In this wide ranging analysis W Lawrence Hogue argues that African American life and history is more diverse than even African American critics generally acknowledge Focusing on literary representations of African American males in particular Hogue examines works by James Weldon Johnson William Melvin Kelley Charles Wright Nathan Heard Clarence Major James Earl Hardy and Don Belton to see how they portray middle class Christian subaltern voodoo urban jazz blues postmodern and gay African American cultures Hogue shows that this polycentric perspective can move beyond a racial uplift approach to African American literature and history and help paint a clearer picture of the rich diversity of African American life and culture

Marching to a Different Drummer Robin K. Berson, 1994-09-30 These 35 little known heroes and heroines of American history from across the ethnic spectrum have been virtually ignored in traditional history books Their inspiring biographical profiles reveal the struggle in the face of entrenched opposition for a just equitable and humane society They spoke for racial and social justice women s rights safe working conditions and freedom of conscience and religion More than half of the profiles are of women one fourth are of African Americans and Native Americans Asian Americans Latino and Chicano Americans are also represented Each profile integrates the individual life with a detailed explanation of the historical context and each entry provides excerpts from primary sources speeches writings and interviews and is followed by broad bibliographical references An alternative perspective on American history for students is offered in this work The 35 men and women profiled here all defied the social and moral conventions of their times frequently facing opposition and condemnation Their voices were often stilled muted or lost but their ethically grounded courage their clarity of vision and their willingness to stand up to injustice provide role models for Americans of all ages One third of these people cannot be found in standard biographical references and others have never before been the focus of biographical sketches Subject lists by chronology gender ethnicity and focus of the biographee s concern will enable the student to select an appropriate subject for investigation and reports
