The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling John Rowan,2014-02-25 The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling presents a revealing and stimulating account of the current state of training that demonstrates how training will have to adapt if it is to successfully meet the needs and challenges of the future In an attempt to look afresh at the whole question of training John Rowan proposes that there are three ways of doing therapy and any examination of training has to consider each of these the instrumental where the main emphasis is on the treating the client or patient the authentic way where the main emphasis is on meeting the client or patient the transpersonal way where main emphasis is on linking with the client in a more personal way Each approach makes different assumptions about the self about the relationship and about the level of consciousness involved in doing therapy By challenging the basic precepts of traditional training John Rowan encourages the reader to reconsider subjects including the difference between counselling and psychotherapy culture and ethics the origins of disturbance in clients and child development The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling provides a much needed new perspective that will compel all psychotherapists and counsellors to take a closer look at training in the field

The Future of Automated Freight Transport J. W. Konings,Hugo Priemus,Peter Nijkamp,2005 This book explores the many challenges faced by the development and implementation of automated freight transport systems It offers a unique overview of current applications developments and future perspectives The subject of automation is not covered extensively in the existing literature on freight transport and this book aims to fill the gap In view of the increasing difficulties in coping with growing transport volumes in an efficient and sustainable way the development of new automated freight applications could be a viable alternative The first chapters of the book are devoted to an overview of concepts and current research developments in automated transport outlining the opportunities barriers and threats for further development paths for different transport modes The authors then go on to focus on innovative tools to design and evaluate these new transport developments The book closes with a detailed and critical analysis of what is probably the most critical part of system innovation that is the implementation of automated systems Written from a multi disciplinary perspective which reflects the diversity of the relevant issues needing consideration when designing developing and implementing such systems this book will be an invaluable source for scholars and researchers of innovation and transport studies In addition the book will be useful to policymakers and practitioners involved in the design development and implementation of new technologies for freight transport It may also appeal to wider readers with an interest in the future of freight transport systems
