Strike Commando:

The Outbreak on the Witwatersrand, March, 1922 William Urquhart, 1922 '80s Action Movies on the Cheap Daniel R. Budnik, 2017-03-21 The 1980s was the decade when the action film as it is now known came into being. Nonstop big budget excitement became the standard as epic adventures like Raiders of the Lost Ark and The Road Warrior set the tone for the summer blockbusters of Sylvester Stallone, Arnold Schwarzenegger and Chuck Norris. Homages and ripoffs made with lesser budgets followed every hit especially with the advent of direct to video releases. Providing detailed commentary on 284 films, this book explores the excitement, audacity and sheer weirdness of 80s low budget action cinema from the American Ninja series to dime a dozen barbarian pictures to such bargain basement productions as The Courier of Death, Kill Squad and Samurai Cop.

White Rising Jeremy Krikler, 2005-10-20 Racial murder and rebellion lie at the heart of this book. It focuses on South Africa's Rand Revolt of 1922 when Johannesburg and its surrounding towns were wracked by industrial strife, racial violence and insurrection. White workers rose against their employers and the State, black people were hunted through the streets and strikers launched an onslaught upon police and the army. Krikler recreates this world of intense conflict and analyses the sources and complex nature of its extreme passions. The book suggests novel ways of looking at racial identity and violence and breaks new ground in other areas for example in its assessment of the impact of the First World War on labour movements and in its exploration of the significance of female violence during the upheaval. Written with a determination to explore deeper meanings, the book has wide implications for our understanding of race and class in South Africa and elsewhere. It also offers a most vivid portrayal of a rebellion with all its cruelty, heroism, drama and pathos.

Farmer's Weekly, 1921 The Cambridge History of South Africa: Volume 2, 1885-1994 Robert Ross, Anne Kelk Mager, Bill Nasson, 2011-08-15 This book surveys South African history from the discovery of gold in the Witwatersrand in the late nineteenth century to the first democratic elections in 1994. Written by many of the leading historians of the country, it pulls together four decades of scholarship to present a detailed overview of South Africa during the twentieth century. It covers political, economic, social and intellectual developments and their interconnections in a clear and objective manner. This book, the second of two volumes, represents an important reassessment of all the major historical events, developments and records of South Africa and will be an important new tool for students and professors of African history worldwide as well as the basis for further development and research.

Ekurhuleni Phil Bonner, Noor Nieftagodien, 2012-11-01 The first academic work to provide an historical account and explanation of the development of this extended region to the east of Johannesburg since its origins at the end of the nineteenth century. From the time of the discovery of gold and coal until the turn of the twenty first century, the region comprised a number of distinctive towns, all with their own histories. In 2000 these towns were amalgamated into a single metropolitan area but unlike its counterparts across the country it does not cohere around a single identity Drawing on a significant body of academic work as well as original research by the authors the book traces and examines some of the salient historical strands that constituted what was formerly known as the East Rand and suggests that notwithstanding important differences between towns and the racial fragmentation generated by apartheid the region s history contains significant common features Arguably its centrality as a major mining area and then as the country s engineering heartland gave Ekurhuleni an overarching distinctive economic character
