

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT & TOURISM STRATEGY

TOURISM SUB-STRATEGY

Positions the Town as a destination for investment and growth in the Tourism sector (including recreation, sports, culture and heritage tourism).

GREEN ECONOMY SUB-STRATEGY

Builds on Council's climate change priorities and leverages key related initiatives to position Halton Hills as a leading destination for investment and growth in the clean technology/low-carbon economy sectors.

MARKETING SUB-STRATEGY

Includes marketing, branding and visioning statements, as well as a practical suite of marketing collateral and actions to raise awareness of Halton Hills as a prime investment destination.

BROWNFIELD SUB-STRATEGY

Focuses on addressing regulatory, land-use planning and financial challenges and opportunities posed by brownfield sites, with the objective to promote remediation, rehabilitation, adaptive re-use and overall redevelopment of brownfields.

FDI ATTRACTION STRATEGY

A 5-year roadmap and 3-year Action Plan to support Halton Hills in being proactive and competitive in growing the local economy by identifying new international markets and actions to best access them.

The Politics of Urban Development Clarence Nathan Stone, Heywood T. Sanders, 1987 In the past twenty years the study of urban politics has shifted from a predominant concern with political culture and ethos to a preoccupation with political economy particularly that of urban development Urban scholars have come to recognize that cities are shaped by forces beyond their boundaries From that focus have emerged the views that cities are clearly engaged in economic competition that market processes are shaped by national policy decisions sometimes intentionally and sometimes inadvertently and that the costs and benefits of economic growth are unevenly distributed But what else needs to be said about the policies and politics of urban development To supplement prevailing theories The Politics of Urban Development argues that the role of local actors in making development decisions merits closer study Whatever the structural constraints politics still matters Collectively the essays provide ample evidence that local government officials and other community actors do not simply follow the imperatives that derive from the national political economy they are able to assert a significant degree of influence over the shared destiny of an urban population The impact of the collection is to heighten awareness of local political practices and of how and why they make a difference

Reconstructing Times Square Alexander J. Reichl, 1999 When the big ball drops on New Year's Eve thousands are there to witness that great glittering sight while millions more watch on national television Times Square may be the cultural hub of America the Crossroads of the World but its lights have not always shone as brightly as they do now Once a glamorous theater district Times Square and 42nd Street had degenerated into a neighborhood known for the winos and sex shops of Midnight Cowboy until New York's business and arts communities stepped in These advocates of urban revitalization exploited cultural and historic preservation arguments to transform a low income entertainment district into a Disney fied tourist mecca Where Ratso Rizzo once kicked cars and hookers plied their trade Mickey Mouse now greets visitors from atop a Disney superstore surrounded by rising office towers theaters and theme restaurants all thanks to huge tax subsidies and government support Alexander Reichl tells the fascinating story of how cultural politics and economic greed transformed the city's physical and social environment with an ongoing multibillion dollar redevelopment program changing the district from a symbol of urban decline to one of urban renaissance He explains the political significance of the historic preservation and arts related approach to urban revitalization showing how it was used to appeal to the upscale values of middle class New Yorkers often hostile to urban renewal He also examines the role of the Walt Disney Company in the project and demonstrates its power to redefine a premier public space In telling the story of Times Square Reichl reveals much about politics and power at the city level and their relationship to the development of urban space He frames his lively narrative with an illuminating account of how historic preservation initiatives at all government levels have displaced large scale federal urban renewal programs as the dominant approach to urban development and he shows the importance of political discourse and cultural politics in mobilizing public support for urban redevelopment Now that it has been reconfigured for the 21st century Times Square provides a rich and multifaceted case for exploring the latest trends in urban renewal Yet Reichl suggests much that has happened here is regrettable the ousting of low income citizens to serve commercial interests the loss of a culturally diverse entertainment district and the failure to address persistent class and race based segregation in a central urban area By getting to the heart of the Great White Way Reconstructing Times Square provides an important look at urban renewal and politics in a changing America Strategy and Tactics in Mountain Ranges Thomas Miller Maguire,1904 Journal of the House of Representatives of the United States United States.
