Winter Interlude 37:

The Last to Leave Margaret Clough, 2014-08-23 The Last to Leave is Margaret Clough's second collection of poetry. These poems follow on from her first extremely popular collection At Least the Duck Survived 2011 in that the light warm hearted tone continues as does Clough's engagement with aging and mortality. These poems are a tonic and leave the reader feeling refreshed, saddened and better off. Clough has participated in The Franschoek Literary Festival and has been invited to a number of reading engagements in the Western Cape including the McGregor Poetry Festival. Her books sell out every time she reads.

Britten, Voice and Piano Graham Johnson, 2017-10-03 This collection of eight lectures by internationally acclaimed pianist Graham Johnson is based on a series of concert talks given at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama as part of the Benjamin Britten festival in 2001. The focus of the book is on Britten's songs starting with his earliest compositions in the genre. Graham Johnson suggests that the nature of Britten's creativity is especially apparent in his setting of poetry that he becomes the poet's alter ego. A chapter on Britten's settings of Auden and Eliot explores the particular influences these writers brought to bear at opposite poles of the composer's life. The inspiration of fellow musicians is also discussed with a chapter devoted to Britten's time in Russia and his friendship with the Rostropovitch family. Closer to home the book places in context Britten's folksong settings illustrating how he subverted the English folksong tradition by refusing to accept previous definitions of what constituted national loyalty. Drawing on letters and diaries and featuring a number of previously unpublished photographs, this book illuminates aspects of Britten's songs from the personal perspective of the pianist who worked closely with Peter Pears after Benjamin Britten was unable to perform through illness. Johnson worked with Pears on learning the role of Aschenbach in Death in Venice and was official pianist for the first master class given by Peter Pears at Snape in 1972.

Fills a significant void in the literature on ornamental plant usage. The book is a valuable text and reference work for advanced students professional plantsmen and landscape architects and is a welcome addition to the literature. American Society of Horticultural Science. This is not only a textbook but a valuable reference work for anyone involved with landscape plants. American Horticulturalist. Here is the definitive one stop survey of more than 1500 woody ornamental plants and 2500 cultivars of eastern North America for students and professionals in landscape architecture and design horticulture and urban forestry. Written by an esteemed authority in the field this book includes Greatly expanded coverage of plant species including significantly increased attention to commercial cultivars. Sensible cross referencing for plant selection based on more than two dozen design criteria with lists arranged according to such vital factors as size hardiness and environmental requirements. Hundreds of crisp textural diagrams portraying each primary species at 15 and 40 years in relation to average human height. More than 400 photographs depicting plants of exceptional visual interest. Maps and graphs including a full color map of hardiness zones offering invaluable visual summaries of major design considerations. Succinct explorations of problems and maintenance issues for each species diminishing the complications of choosing among high and low maintenance plants. An index listing plants by their scientific and common names. Now in its second edition this book remains the core reference on landscape design in eastern North America intelligently organized for maximum planning efficiency. Enhanced with up to date coverage of additional shrubs trees and their cultivars as well as expanded listings of plants classified by characteristics. Landscape Plants for Eastern North America continues to provide all the information necessary for landscape designing in the region. This complete guide provides a concise description of each plant species function adaptability seasonal interest growth rate common problems maintenance cultivars and related species along with more than 1000 high quality scale drawings and hundreds of photographs And Dr Flint s book goes beyond many works on landscape plants because of its unique focus on the landscape design process with cross referencing in more than two dozen categories based on such design criteria as size site requirements and soil prerequisites readers will easily be able to determine which plants are appropriate to their needs Throughout the book a variety of illustrations provide quick reference on a range of important considerations A full color map represents the hardiness zones of the eastern region and bar graphs indicate such adaptability considerations as light wind soil moisture and pH requirements For each primary species a seasonal clock furnishes a straightforward visual delineation of the duration and intensity of color throughout the year Encompassing plant life from herbaceous ground covers to large trees this is a most comprehensive easy to use resource for anyone involved in landscaping in eastern North America Booklist Books, a Selection American Library Association,1922 International Index to Periodicals ,1924 An author and subject index to publications in fields of anthropology archaeology and classical studies economics folklore geography history language and literature music philosophy political science religion and theology sociology and theatre arts American Illustrated Magazine ,1925
