When a Brother or Sister Dies Claire Berman, 2009-02-17 The trauma of losing a sibling when we are in our adult years is one of the most unrecognized and undertreated areas of psychology There is no other loss in adult life that appears to be so neglected as the death of a brother or sister says bereavement specialist and psychologist Therese Rando And Rando is just one expert author Berman interviews in this moving book about loss We see here how when an adult dies the parents spouse and children of that person become the focus but brothers and sisters most often fall to the sidelines and are left to find a way to deal with the grief and recover alone Yet when a brother or sister dies we lose our longest lifetime companion someone with whom we have shared an intimate family history And in most cases that was someone for whom we had conflicted feelings shared identity yet competitive feelings pride yet jealousy love yet hate Most of us come to make peace with the relationship at some point How to make peace with the death of the sibling which can conjure up a well of feelings from wishing you were closer to wanting to change some past events you shared can haunt an adult But author Claire Berman who lost her own sister to heart disease in the week of September 11 2001 when America lost its innocence takes us into the emotional world of sibling loss showing us how to understand and navigate the aftermath of a loss that can leave adults feeling angry confused guilty empty or just like Berman wanting to hit that speed dial button still marked with her sister's name Reports of Cases Determined by the Supreme Court of the State of Missouri Missouri. Modern Loss Rebecca Soffer, Gabrielle Birkner, 2018-01-23 Inspired by the website that the New York Times hailed as redefining mourning this book is a fresh and irreverent examination into navigating grief and resilience in the age of social media offering comfort and community for coping with the mess of loss through candid original essays from a variety of voices accompanied by gorgeous two color illustrations and wry infographics At a time when we mourn public figures and national tragedies with hashtags where intimate posts about loss go viral and we receive automated birthday reminders for dead friends it's clear we are navigating new terrain without a road map. Let's face it, most of us have always had a difficult time talking about death and sharing our grief. We're awkward and uncertain, we avoid, ignore, or even deny feelings of sadness; we offer platitudes, we send sympathy bouquets whittled out of fruit. Enter Rebecca Soffer and Gabrielle Birkner, who can help us do better. Each having lost parents as young adults, they co-founded Modern Loss, responding to a need to change the dialogue around the messy experience of grief. Now in this wise and often funny book, they offer the insights of the Modern Loss community to help us cry, laugh, grieve, identify, and above all, empathize. Soffer and Birkner, along with forty guest contributors including Lucy Kalanithi, singer Amanda Palmer, and CNN's Brian Stelter, reveal their own stories on a wide range of topics including triggers, sex, secrets, and inheritance. Accompanied by beautiful hand-drawn illustrations and witty how-to cartoons, each contribution provides a unique perspective on loss, as well as a remarkable life-affirming message. Brutally honest and inspiring, Modern Loss invites us to talk intimately and humorously about grief, helping us confront the humanity and mortality we all share. Beginners welcome. Tolstoy and the Purple Chair Nina Sankovitch, 2011-06-07. A dazzling memoir that reminds us of the most primal function of literature: to heal, to nurture, and to connect us to our truest selves. Thrity Umrigar, author of The Space Between Us, catalyzed by the loss of her sister, a mother of four, spends one year savoring a great book every day, from Thomas Pynchon to Nora Ephron and beyond. Nina Sankovitch's soul-baring and literary-minded memoir is a chronicle of loss, hope, and redemption. Nina ultimately turns to reading as therapy, and through her journey, illuminates the power of books to help us reclaim our lives. Intelligent, insightful, and eloquent, Sankovitch takes the reader on the literary journey. As a bonus, even the well-read reader will be inspired to explore some of the books from this magical year. Kirkus Reviews starred review. The beauty of her project lies in seeing how books intertwine with daily life, how very much they affect our moods, interactions, and especially important for Sankovitch, how we recover and process our memories. Los Angeles Times. Through the stories of her own family, Nina Sankovitch shows how books have the power to refresh, renew, and even heal us. Julie Klam, New York Times bestselling author of You Had Me at Woof. An entertaining bibliophile's dream, Sankovitch champions the act of reading not as an indulgence but as a necessity, and will make the perfect gift from one bookworm to another. Publishers Weekly. There is much to learn from this moving book. Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni, author of One Amazing Thing. Anyone who has ever sought refuge in literature will identify. O magazine. A beautifully paced look at how mindfulness can affect the psyche. Shelf Awareness starred review.
