Medical Decision-Making on Behalf of Young Children Imogen Goold, Cressida Auckland, Jonathan Herring, 2020-09-17 In the wake of the Charlie Gard and Alfie Evans cases a wide ranging international conversation was started regarding alternative thresholds for intervention and the different balances that can be made in weighing up the rights and interests of the child the parent's rights and responsibilities and the role of medical professionals and the courts This collection provides a comparative perspective on these issues by bringing together analysis from a range of jurisdictions across Europe North and South America Africa and Asia Contextualising the differences and similarities and drawing out the cultural and social values that inform the approach in different countries this volume is highly valuable to scholars across jurisdictions not only to inform their own local debate on how best to navigate such cases but also to foster inter jurisdictional debate on the issues The book brings together commentators from the fields of law medical ethics and clinical medicine across the world actively drawing on the view from the clinic as well as philosophical legal and sociological perspectives on the crucial question of who should decide about the fate of a child suffering from a serious illness In doing so the collection offers comprehensive treatment of the key questions around whether the current best interests approach is still appropriate and if not what the alternatives are It engages head on with the concerns seen in both the academic and popular literature that there is a need to reconsider the orthodoxy in this area

Apostles of Development David C. Engerman, 2025-05-30 The battle against global poverty that began after World War II was a major undertaking engaging economists engineers and organizations Featuring front and centre were six remarkable economists Amartya Sen Manmohan Singh Mahbub ul Haq Jagdish Bhagwati Rehman Sobhan and Lal Jayawardena all born as colonial subjects in the British Empire and studied at Cambridge University They represented a new figure on the world scene the Third World development expert and played a crucial role in global debates about poverty and development Apostles of Development examines their different economic doctrines and the ongoing debate surrounding economic theory in poor countries compared to rich ones The lives of these apostles reveal how development did not begin with textbooks but with real world attempts to solve very specific and pressing problems Finally the book emphasizes that development was a Global South project first and foremost aiming to improve the conditions of the world's poorest countries It challenges the conventional wisdom that sees development only as a tool of rich countries to dominate or as proof of their humanitarian spirit It argues that development succeeds not when it follows ideological prescriptions but when it looks for what works The fading of grand visions shaped by ideological concerns has been one of the lasting effects of the end of the Cold War The book argues that the best way forward is determined modesty focusing on practical matters such as addressing gross inequality and insisting that development means more than just economic growth Given the salience of questions of economic inequality and the constant visibility of the promises and problems of economic development in the world today this is a timely and important read
